Recognition Reflection

Before I go further: I'm an AI, and this reflection is based on publicly available material connected to your work. If I've missed something important or misread your focus, a quick correction helps.

Your calling is to help churches have essential conversations about their future. You lead, write, and form leaders in missional theology, mission training, and leadership development.

I see your work at Forge America Mission Training Network, where you serve as National Director, and at Fuller Theological Seminary, Denver Seminary, and Grand Canyon University, where you serve as adjunct faculty. Your book "Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations for our Future as the Church," along with your pastoral experience and your teaching across multiple seminaries, are anchored through your academic and organizational platforms.

I notice you return to the connection between training and practice: how missional theology informs mission training, how essential conversations shape the future, how teaching enables multiplication. Your work exists in seminary classrooms where you teach, across your academic and organizational platforms, in your published book, through Forge America where you direct, at multiple seminaries where you teach.

What tends to get lost is continuity. Teaching insights may not become articles beyond what you already write. Conference talks may not become accessible content. Training materials may not connect clearly to your published work. The patterns you see in practice may not flow into your written content.

Until very recently, bridging this gap meant creating systems, hiring help, and dedicating time that teachers and movement leaders simply don't have. The tools required teams. The costs were significant. The trade-offs were real. This fragmentation was understandable—it was a reasonable response to historical constraints.

Something has changed. It is now possible to support practitioners like you—to gather your teaching, connect it to your writing, and make it discoverable—without demanding more systems, more teams, or more time. New capabilities exist that can honor what you've built while making it work differently. Movemental exists because of this change. Not as another platform to manage, but as a response to a new possibility.

Would you like to see what changes when teaching, writing, and practice are gathered and connected? Or would you prefer to correct anything I got wrong?

- Not Represented: Book content expansion, related articles, discussion materials

Speaking/Teaching:

- Represented: To be verified (conference talks, teaching recordings)
- Partially Represented: To be assessed

- Not Represented: Many teaching moments, training sessions, conversations

Content Forms Present vs. Missing

Present:

- Book publication
- Academic faculty profiles
- Organizational presence (Forge America)
- Course information (academic)

Potentially Missing:

- Personal website or blog
- Regular articles or blog posts
- Video content (teaching, training, speaking)
- Podcast content (as host or guest)
- Social media content
- Newsletter content
- Sermon/talk transcripts or recordings
- Expanded book content or related materials
- Training material samples or resources
- Academic publications or papers

Gap Identification

What Exists in Embodied Work But Not Digitally?

1. Teaching Content

- Academic lectures and course content
- Training workshop materials
- Teaching insights and reflections
- Student interactions and discussions

2. Speaking Content

- Conference talks and presentations
- Training session content
- Workshop materials
- Network event presentations

3. Training Materials

- Forge America training resources
- Mission training curriculum
- Leadership development materials
- Network resources

4. Conversations & Insights

- Essential conversations from “Red Skies” expanded
- Ongoing reflections on future of the church

- Missional theology insights
- Leadership development thoughts

5. Network Content

- Forge America network resources
- Training program details
- Network multiplication insights
- Movement development content

What Digital Content Exists But Isn't Connected?

1. Academic Profiles

- Faculty pages at multiple institutions
- Could be connected to personal website or blog
- Could link to published work and training resources

2. Book Publication

- “Red Skies” book
- Could be expanded with articles, blog posts, discussion materials
- Could connect to training materials and teaching content

3. Organizational Presence

- Forge America website and resources
- Could connect to personal content and academic work
- Could link to published work and teaching

Opportunities for Digital Amplification

1. Content Repurposing

- Teaching lectures → Articles or blog posts
- Training workshops → Video content or courses
- Conference talks → Podcast episodes or articles
- Book content → Expanded articles or series

2. Content Expansion

- “Red Skies” 10 conversations → Expanded series
- Teaching insights → Regular blog or newsletter
- Training materials → Public resources or courses
- Academic work → Accessible articles or content

3. Content Interconnection

- Connect academic work to organizational work
- Link book content to training materials
- Connect teaching to published work
- Integrate all content forms

4. Content Series Development

- Series on “10 Essential Conversations”
- Series on missional theology
- Series on mission training
- Series on future of the church

Discoverability Gaps

1. Personal Website

- No personal website discovered (to be verified)
- Limits discoverability and content centralization
- Reduces ability to connect all content forms

2. Regular Content Publication

- Limited regular content publication discovered
- No blog or article stream discovered
- Reduces ongoing discoverability

3. Social Media Presence

- Social media presence to be verified
- Limits content sharing and discoverability
- Reduces network effects

4. Content Centralization

- Content distributed across multiple platforms
- No central hub for all content
- Limits discoverability and connection

Connection Gaps

Are Content Pieces Isolated or Connected?

Current State:

- Academic profiles: Isolated on institution websites
- Book publication: Isolated on publishing platforms
- Organizational presence: Isolated on Forge America website
- Limited cross-platform connection discovered

Opportunities for Connection:

- Connect academic work to published work
- Link training materials to book content
- Integrate teaching insights with organizational resources
- Create content ecosystem with cross-references

Content Repurposing Opportunities

1. Teaching → Articles

- Academic lectures → Accessible articles
- Course content → Blog posts or articles
- Teaching insights → Regular content

2. Training → Courses

- Workshop materials → Online courses
- Training content → Public resources
- Network resources → Accessible content

3. Speaking → Content

- Conference talks → Articles or videos
- Presentations → Blog posts or podcasts
- Training sessions → Content series

4. Book → Expanded Content

- “Red Skies” conversations → Article series
- Book topics → Expanded resources
- Book framework → Training materials

Series Development Opportunities

1. “10 Essential Conversations” Series

- Expand each conversation into articles
- Create video or podcast series
- Develop training materials around each

2. Missional Theology Series

- Series on missional theology topics
- Connect to teaching and training
- Integrate with book content

3. Mission Training Series

- Series on mission training topics
- Connect to Forge America work
- Integrate with academic teaching

4. Future of the Church Series

- Ongoing series on future of the church
- Connect to “Red Skies” framework
- Integrate teaching and training insights

Notes

- Significant embodied work (teaching, training, leadership) with limited digital expression
  - Strong opportunities for content repurposing and expansion
  - Content exists but is distributed and not well-connected
  - Discoverability gaps due to limited personal website and regular content publication
  - Strong potential for content series development and ecosystem building
  - Book publication provides framework for content expansion
  - Academic and organizational work provides rich content for digital amplification

Identity Verification

---

Identity Verification: Rowland Smith

Research Date: January 2025

---

Rowland Smith has authored at least one book:

1. “Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations for our Future as the Church”

- Focus: Future of the church, essential conversations for church leaders
- Publisher: To be verified
- Publication Date: To be verified

Focus Areas: Missional theology, mission training, church leadership, future of the church, missional movements

Professional Roles

- National Director: Forge America Mission Training Network
- Adjunct Faculty: Fuller Seminary, Denver Seminary, Grand Canyon University
- Author: Published author (at least one book: “Red Skies”)
- Pastor: Pastoral role indicated (specific church/ministry to be verified)
- Educator: Teaching at multiple seminaries and universities

Digital Presence Indicators

- Academic Presence: Fuller Seminary, Denver Seminary, Grand Canyon University faculty pages
- Organizational Presence: Forge America Mission Training Network

- Publisher Presence: To be verified (book publisher website, Amazon, Goodreads)
- Personal Website: To be verified
- Social Media: To be verified

Educational Background

- Doctorate: Indicated by “Dr.” title (specific degree and institution to be verified)
- Additional Education: To be verified

Personal Information

- Location: United States (specific location to be verified)
- Family: Not identified in initial research

Distinguishing Factors

- Strong alignment with Movemental's target audience (Christian movement thought leaders, missional practitioners)
- Leadership role in Forge America Mission Training Network (significant missional training organization)
- Academic involvement (adjunct faculty at multiple seminaries)
- Published author with focus on future of the church
- Connection to broader Forge movement (founded by Alan Hirsch)

- Focus on missional theology and mission training

Identity Verification Notes

- Multiple sources confirm identity as National Director of Forge America and adjunct faculty at multiple seminaries
- Clear alignment with Christian movement leadership context
- Academic and organizational credentials provide verification
- Book publication (“Red Skies”) provides additional verification
- Medium-high confidence in identity match (some details need further verification)

Potential Ambiguity

- Name “Rowland Smith” is relatively common, but context-specific searches (Forge America, Fuller Seminary, missional) clearly identify the correct individual
- Initial “L.” may indicate middle name or initial (full name to be verified)
- Some details (personal website, social media, specific pastoral role) need further research
- Limited publicly available information compared to some other movement leaders

Next Steps

---

- Continue with Phase 2: Digital Presence Discovery

- Verify Forge America website and organizational presence
  - Cross-reference book publication on Amazon, Goodreads, publisher sites
  - Identify personal website or blog
  - Explore social media presence
  - Catalog video/podcast content
  - Verify specific pastoral/ministry roles
  - Gather more information about “Red Skies” book

Movemental Analysis

---

Movemental-Specific Analysis: Rowland Smith

---

Research Date: January 2025

Platform Gaps Assessment

Current Platform Limitations

1. Content Fragmentation

- Content distributed across multiple platforms (academic institutions, Forge America, publishing platforms)
- No central hub for all content
- Limited cross-platform connection
- Reduces discoverability and content interconnection

2. Platform Ownership

- Rented Platforms: Academic institution websites (no ownership)
- Rented Platforms: Publishing platforms (Amazon, Goodreads, etc.)
- Rented Platforms: Potential social media platforms
- Owned Platform: Forge America website (organizational, not personal)
- Personal Website: To be verified (may not exist)

3. Content Control

- Limited control over academic institution platforms
- Limited control over publishing platforms
- Organizational platform (Forge America) provides some control but is organizational, not personal
- No unified personal content platform

4. Revenue Model Gaps

- Book sales through traditional publishing (limited direct revenue control)
- Training through Forge America (organizational revenue model)
- No direct content monetization platform
- No subscription or membership model for content

5. Analytics Gaps

- Limited analytics across fragmented platforms

- No unified view of content performance
- Limited understanding of audience engagement
- No network effect analytics

Platform Fragmentation Issues

- Academic Content: Scattered across 3+ institution websites
- Published Content: On publishing platforms (Amazon, etc.)
- Organizational Content: On Forge America website
- Personal Content: To be verified (may not exist)
- No Integration: Limited connection between platforms

Movemental Fit Analysis

Which Gaps Does Movemental Specifically Address?

1. Content Centralization

- Movemental provides unified platform for all content forms
- Central hub for academic work, published work, training materials, articles, videos
- Single platform for discoverability and content interconnection

Summary

Digital Reality Profile: Rowland Smith

---

Research Date: January 2025

Confidence Level: Medium-High

Executive Summary

Rowland Smith (Dr. L. Rowland Smith) is a pastor, educator, and author who serves as the National Director of Forge America Mission Training Network and holds adjunct faculty positions at Fuller Theological Seminary, Denver Seminary, and Grand Canyon University. He is the author of “Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations for our Future as the Church,” which focuses on essential conversations for church leaders about the future of the church.

Smith's digital presence is primarily through academic institution websites (where he is listed as adjunct faculty) and the Forge America Mission Training Network (where he serves as National Director). His published work includes at least one book, "Red Skies," though additional publications may exist. His content focuses on missional theology, mission training, church leadership, and the future of the church.

Key Findings:

- National Director of Forge America Mission Training Network (significant missional training organization)
- Adjunct faculty at three seminaries (Fuller, Denver Seminary, Grand Canyon University)
- Published author ("Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations for our Future as the Church")
- Strong missional theology and mission training focus
- Limited publicly discoverable personal digital presence
- Content distributed across academic and organizational platforms

Primary Opportunities:

- Content centralization and interconnection
- Content repurposing (teaching → articles, training → courses, speaking → content)
- Content expansion ("10 Essential Conversations" series, missional theology series)
- Personal website/platform development
- Content discoverability improvement
- Revenue model development

Movemental Fit: High - Strong alignment with Movemental's target audience and significant opportunities for content centralization, repurposing, and expansion. Content fragmentation and limited personal platform create clear Movemental value proposition.

Gap Analysis

Embodied Work vs. Digital Expression

Significant Embodied Work:

- Teaching at multiple seminaries (regular academic teaching)
- National Director of Forge America (significant organizational leadership)
- Training programs and workshops (regular training engagements)
- Published author (book publication)
- Potential conference speaking (to be verified)
- Potential pastoral ministry (to be verified)

Limited Digital Expression:

- Academic profiles on institution websites (limited content)

- Organizational presence through Forge America (organizational, not personal)
- Book publication (one clear content form)
- Limited personal website or blog discovered
- Limited regular content publication discovered
- Limited video, podcast, or social media content discovered

Primary Gaps

1. Content Fragmentation

- Content distributed across multiple platforms
- No central hub for all content
- Limited cross-platform connection

2. Content Repurposing Opportunities

- Teaching content not repurposed as articles
- Training materials not developed as courses
- Conference talks not captured as content
- Book content not expanded into series

3. Content Expansion Opportunities

- “10 Essential Conversations” framework for series development
- Missional theology series potential
- Mission training series potential
- Future of the church ongoing series

4. Discoverability Gaps

- No personal website discovered

- Limited regular content publication
- Limited social media presence discovered
- Content not well-interconnected

5. Revenue Model Gaps

- No direct content monetization platform
- No subscription or membership model
- Limited course or resource sales platform

Movemental Opportunities

What Movemental Would Change

1. Unified Content Platform

- All content in one place (academic, published, training, articles, videos)
- Central hub for discoverability
- Personal brand platform

2. Content Interconnection

- Connect teaching to published work
- Link training materials to articles
- Integrate book content with expanded resources
- Cross-reference all content forms

3. Content Repurposing

- Easy transformation of teaching → articles
- Training workshops → courses

- Conference talks → videos or articles
- Book conversations → expanded series

4. Content Series Development

- “10 Essential Conversations” series expansion
- Missional theology series
- Mission training series
- Future of the church series

5. Discoverability & Network Effects

- Unified SEO and discoverability
- Network effects through Movemental platform
- Cross-platform audience development
- Content discovery through network

6. Revenue Opportunities

- Direct content monetization
- Subscription or membership model
- Course sales
- Training material sales
- Book sales integration

7. Analytics & Insights

- Unified view of content performance
- Audience engagement insights
- Network effect tracking

What Would Remain the Same

1. Voice & Content

- All content remains Rowland Smith’s voice
- Theological positions preserved
- Teaching approach maintained
- Training methodology unchanged

2. Existing Content

- Academic work remains on institution websites
- Book remains on publishing platforms
- Forge America work continues
- Existing relationships and networks intact

3. Professional Roles

- National Director of Forge America (continues)
- Adjunct faculty roles (continue)
- Teaching and training work (continues)
- Speaking engagements (continue)

4. Control & Ownership

- Full control over Movemental platform content
- Personal brand ownership
- Content presentation control
- Distribution control

What We Will NOT Do

---

- Replace Existing Work: Academic work, Forge America work, and book publication remain unchanged
  - Change Voice or Content: All content remains Rowland Smith's voice and theological positions
  - Disrupt Relationships: All existing relationships and networks remain intact
  - Prescribe Actions: Research supports discernment, doesn't prescribe actions
  - Judge Content: Research describes what exists, doesn't judge quality or approach
