Jeremy & Monica Paredes Chambers — Movement Leader Research (Substrate)

Slug: jeremy-monica-chambers (dyad; individuals: jeremy-chambers, monica-chambers)

Version: 3.0.0 (substrate — deepened pass)

Last updated: 2026-05-22

Purpose: Machine-readable corpus for identity resolution, relational traversal, conceptual indexing, and voice fidelity. The operative public voice is the married practitioner dyad, not either spouse in isolation. Not a consulting report.

Research unit: Jeremy Chambers and Monica Paredes Chambers (maiden name Paredes; Costa Rica-born). Every book, Renovaré piece, podcast, and organizational role documented here is joint unless explicitly noted. Downstream agents must treat co-authored "we" voice, shared frameworks, and shared network edges as the default. This version supersedes prior per-person substrates by integrating new findings from the V3 author bio (Lancaster Bible College undergrad; "History of Christian Thought / Church History" TEDS MA — resolving a prior discrepancy), Renovaré Institute alumni status (both spouses), the Pulpit Rock partner spotlight v2 (granular neighborhood metrics; "reached thousands" framing for TAoMS), the 2025 V3 essay The Radiant Power of Spiritual Hope, Exponential 2026 session details, and a corrected liturgical-source inventory for Praying the Hours (Northumbria, Ffald y Brenin, Moravian daily texts, BCP, 24-7 Prayer).

1. Executive summary (90-second take)

Jeremy and Monica Paredes Chambers are a married missional author-practitioner dyad whose published work sits at a rare seam in contemporary movement theology — the seam between Richard Foster's Renovaré spiritual-formation tradition (Foster / Willard / Hudson / Boa lineage) and Alan Hirsch's Forge / 100 Movements / V3 missional-movement stream. Both are Renovaré Institute alumni and ongoing Renovaré Ministry Team members; Jeremy is the national Training Director of Forge America; together they co-lead the Arise Network (seven microchurches in the U.S. and abroad, originated as Arise RVA in Richmond, Virginia in 2013) and Pando Denver (20+ leaders) within Rowland Smith's Pando Collective. They report participation in launching disciple-making movements in 40+ countries.

Their magnum opus is The Art of Missional Spirituality: 31 Sacred Practices for Jesus-Followers (100 Movements Publishing, November 2023; foreword by Alan & Debra Hirsch) — a calendar-month curriculum of daily practices that refuses the binary between interior formation and exterior mission. Their earlier book Kingdom Contours (2020; revised edition 2024–25 with foreword by Alan Hirsch and Michael Frost) is a six-paradigm extension of Hirsch's mDNA into a microchurch planter's toolkit. Both books are 100% co-authored; Renovaré articles, Missio Alliance essays, and podcast appearances are also joint-bylined. The dyad's signature rhetorical move is respiratory metaphor: contemplation is "breathing in," mission is "breathing out," and either alone is fatal — "if you're always breathing out, you're gonna hyperventilate; if you're always breathing in, you're gonna suffocate."

Their distinctive contributions to the missional church discourse: (1) practice-level integration of contemplative discipline with neighborhood mission, pairing each interior practice with an outward send; (2) microchurch as form, not the form — explicit disavowal of microchurch absolutism, which is unusual within microchurch literature; (3) distraction (not opposition or heresy) named as the dominant spiritual threat in their 2025 Missio

Alliance essay; (4) calling vs. assignment as a pastoral diagnostic for compassion fatigue; (5) marriage as published missional form — co-authorship is the public norm, with the closest parallel being Alan & Debra Hirsch.

2. Subject verification (read before citing)

This dossier answers: Is this the Monica Chambers who co-leads missional microchurch work with Jeremy Chambers — and not a namesake?

Verification signal	Expected for our Monica	Confirmed
Full publication name	Monica Paredes Chambers (not "Monica Chambers" alone)	Yes — 100 Movements , Amazon , Missio Alliance author page

Jeremy disambiguation: Subject is Jeremy "Jemo" Chambers, Forge / Pando / Arise missional practitioner — not U.S. Army Capt. Jeremy Chambers (FAO, 2026), Bandcamp musician, Australian jockey, or Japan-based educator EdD.

Conclusion: All substantive conclusions in this file trace to Monica Paredes Chambers + Jeremy Chambers, the missional author-practitioner dyad. No alternate Monica Chambers drove framework, bibliography, or voice conclusions.

5. Editorial bio (3 paragraphs)

Jeremy and Monica Paredes Chambers are a married author-practitioner team operating at the seam between Renovaré-style contemplative formation (Foster / Willard / Hudson / Boa lineage) and the Hirsch-Frost / Forge / 100 Movements missional-movement stream — a juncture few writers in the contemporary missional church meaningfully inhabit. Monica's formation arc moves from Costa Rica through a missionary family's relocation to Lancaster, Pennsylvania — where her parents planted a Latin American congregation for the U.S. Hispanic context — into a decade of microchurch planting in Richmond, Virginia and, since approximately 2022, into the Denver metro (Littleton), where they practice incarnational neighborhood mission and report roughly thirty acts of kindness per week across their micro-parish. Jeremy (born ~1986) reports praying about a future move to Denver since age thirteen — a vocational specificity that anticipated nearly two decades of geographic and ministerial trajectory.

After Jeremy's B.A. in Bible at Lancaster Bible College and two master's degrees from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School (M.A. Intercultural Studies; M.A. History of Christian Thought / Church History) and the couple's joint completion of the Renovaré Institute, they founded Arise RVA Church Network in Richmond in 2013 — a network of microchurches that grew to roughly seven communities and affiliated with the V3 Movement under the Baptist General Association of Virginia. In late 2019 the family relocated to Denver to help Rowland Smith launch the Denver expression of The Pando Collective, a Front Range network for missional micro-expressions of the church. Jeremy serves as Training Director of Forge America (the U.S. arm of Alan Hirsch's globally-networked missional training movement), making him a curricular gatekeeper for the next generation of Forge-formed practitioners. Both are ongoing Renovaré Ministry Team participants (attended a 2024 ministry team retreat) and Pastors Retreat 2022 featured speakers.

Their two books — Kingdom Contours (2020; revised 2024–25) and The Art of Missional Spirituality (November 2023) — are both co-authored with Monica and both published in the 100 Movements Publishing orbit, with forewords by Alan Hirsch, Debra Hirsch, and Michael Frost. The Art of Missional Spirituality (31 sacred practices, foreword by Alan & Debra Hirsch) is their magnum opus: a calendar-structured fusion of contemplative discipline and neighborhood mission designed to refuse the modern dichotomy between "intimacy with God" and "engagement with neighbors." Across Renovaré articles (2022, 2023), the V3 Movement blog (2018–2025), a 2025 Missio Alliance essay on compassion fatigue, and a 2024 launch podcast circuit (Renovaré Life With God, Pivotal People, Dandelion Resourcing, Everyday Disciple, Shifting Culture #197), their work consistently presents missional life as a respiratory rhythm, not a strategy — formation and sentness folded into a single way, carried in public almost exclusively as we.

6. Core thesis & distinctive contribution

The Chambers' load-bearing intellectual claim — the proposition that distinguishes them from peers in either upstream tradition — is respiratory missional spirituality: contemplation and mission are not sequential stages, hierarchical levels, or competing items on a to-do list; they are two phases of one breath, and either alone is fatal.

This thesis is sharper than it sounds in summary because it does double duty:

- Against pure-contemplative voices (Foster, Willard, Hudson, Renovaré-as-such), the Chambers refuse the "retreat-and-return" pattern in which formation precedes mission. They argue mission is part of formation; the neighbor is not the destination but the locus where the practice itself completes.
- Against pure-missional voices (Hirsch, Frost, Brisco, Forge-as-such), the Chambers refuse the substitution of activism for interior life. Compassion fatigue, in their 2025 Missio Alliance diagnosis, is self-inflicted by overexposure to crisis without the corresponding inward breath.

The proposition is operationalized in The Art of Missional Spirituality's 31-practice calendar architecture, where each interior discipline is paired with an outward send — solitude pairs with secret acts of kindness; praying the hours pairs with neighborhood prayer rhythms; centering pairs with hospitality. This pairing is unusual in the spiritual formation literature, which more typically arranges practices on a single inward axis. It is also unusual in the missional church literature, which more typically arranges practices on a single outward axis. The pairing — and the calendar that forces it daily — is the Chambers' proprietary architectural move.

A second distinctive contribution: non-absolutism within microchurch advocacy. Most microchurch literature (Hirsch on house church, Sanders on Underground, Cole on organic church) implicitly or explicitly elevates the form. The Chambers explicitly disavow this — "Sometimes you'll find in one segment...people who are all about micro church and they're like it's the only way" (Pivotal People 2024) — placing them in the unusual posture of microchurch practitioners who model the form without absolutizing it.

A third distinctive contribution: distraction (not heresy, not opposition) as the dominant spiritual threat. Their 2025 Missio Alliance essay names "Distraction may be the single most damaging danger to the inner life with Jesus" — a diagnosis that sets them apart from the cultural-warrior framings dominant in evangelical missional church discourse and aligns them more with the contemplative diagnosis of accidie / acedia.

A fourth distinctive contribution: calling vs. assignment as a discrete pastoral diagnostic for sustainable mission. Calling = overall trajectory oriented by God (companion tool: Hirsch's APEST). Assignment = temporary Spirit-highlighted action (may pause calling for, e.g., a family crisis). The distinction is not present at this level of specificity in either the upstream Renovaré or upstream Forge teaching, and it serves as the Chambers' practical contribution to the compassion-fatigue / sustainable-mission discourse.

A fifth distinctive contribution: co-authorship with spouse as the published norm — paralleling Alan & Debra Hirsch, but at a level of completeness (every book; every Renovaré article; almost every podcast appearance) that is rare across the missional publishing space. The Chambers model marriage itself as a public missional unit.

7. Frameworks

7.1 The Art of Missional Spirituality — 31 Sacred Practices (2023)

Field	Value
Authors	Jeremy & Monica Paredes Chambers (foreword: Alan & Debra Hirsch)
Introduced	2023-11-09, The Art of Missional Spirituality: 31 Sacred Practices for Jesus-Followers (100 Movements Publishing)
Thesis	Mission and contemplation are one integrated way of life — "spirituality that doesn't draw you away from your neighbors but propels you into the lives of others and the needs of your city."
Structure	31 daily practices (one month) configurable as a weekly cadence across a year. Each practice pairs an interior posture with an exterior send.
Practice families (visible across sources)	(a) Prayer-focused — praying the hours, soaking prayer, centering prayer, intercession, the Lord's Prayer, Psalm 23 as transforming prayer, the Examen; (b) Scripture engagement — creative memorization alternatives, immersion (e.g., Ecclesiastes month-immersion); (c) Relational/missional — secret acts of kindness, spiritual friendship, solitude/silence paired with neighborhood presence, hospitality, walking prayer, blessing one's city
Visual / model	One-month linear calendar (31 practices); also configurable as weekly rhythm across a year. Recurring image: rhythm holding contemplative and missional poles together.
Adoption evidence	Goodreads 4.47 ★ / 17 ratings (May 2026); "reached thousands" per Pulpit Rock 2024 partner spotlight; curriculum use in Pando Denver (20+ leaders), Arise Network (7 microchurches), and Forge cohorts; foreword by Alan & Debra Hirsch
Source	Amazon , 100 Movements , jemo chambers.com

The framework's argument: spiritual practices are positioning for the soul to receive grace (not transactional leverage to earn outcomes), and each interior practice is incomplete without its outward companion. The 31-day cadence forces the integration by daily juxtaposition rather than allowing the reader to settle into a single axis.

7.2 Breathing in / Breathing out (signature metaphor — Monica-forward in podcasts)

Field	Value
Introduced	Articulated publicly in Everyday Disciple podcast (2024); recurs in Pivotal People (Jan 2024), Shifting Culture (Jul 2024), and joint Forge teaching
Components	(1) Breathing in = contemplation, silence, prayer, Scripture, communion; (2) Breathing out = mission, neighbor-presence, acts of kindness, planting, hospitality; (3) Pathology of imbalance — "if you're always breathing out, you're gonna hyperventilate; if you're always breathing in, you're gonna suffocate"
Visual / model	Respiration metaphor; somatic / bodily framing for spiritual formation
Adoption evidence	Used as Monica's primary teaching frame across podcast appearances; recurring in spoken teaching
Source	Everyday Disciple Podcast, Pivotal People S2E70

The frame is Monica's signature critique of both burnout-prone missional activism and disengaged contemplation: each is fatal in isolation; only the respiratory rhythm sustains. It functions as the spoken-word version of the written 31-practice architecture.

7.3 Kingdom Contours — Six Foundational Paradigms (2020 / revised 2024-25)

#	Paradigm	Source
1	Christocentric and Trinitarian — centering on Jesus as Lord	100 Movements
2	Discipleship — being and making Jesus followers	idem
3	Incarnational Living — adopting a missional strategic mindset	idem
4	Movement Wisdom — embracing movemental approaches (mDNA / Hirsch)	idem
5	Organic Systems — structuring for multiplication	idem
6	Deep Community — taking risks through faith	idem

Field	Value
Introduced	2020 (Kingdom Contours: Empowering Everyday People); refined 2024–25 (Kingdom Contours: Foundations, Paradigms, and Tools for Equipping Jesus Movements, revised)
Explicit blueprint	Alan Hirsch's The Forgotten Ways / mDNA ; explicit reference to mDNA architecture
Appendix	"Baby Steps: How to Start a Micro-Church" — operational tooling
Adoption evidence	~1,000 readers cited (Pulpit Rock 2024); used as Arise / Pando / Forge curricular spine; revised ed. carries forewords by Alan Hirsch + Michael Frost
Source	100 Movements , Amazon revised , Everand 1st ed.

The framework extends Hirsch's mDNA into a planter-facing toolkit. The distinctive contribution is foregrounding Deep Community as a discrete sixth paradigm — the relational substrate that the other five depend on. Twenty years of coaching is cited on the 100 Movements page; ~100 global plants/ministries are claimed as observation base.

7.4 Secret acts of kindness (practice + neighborhood metric)

Field	Value
Introduced	One of the 31 Sacred Practices; expounded in Pivotal People podcast (Jan 2024)
Components	Anonymous good deeds; refusing recognition or credit; surrendering outcomes to God; aligned to Sermon-on-the-Mount secrecy ethic
Visual / model	Counter-formation discipline against approval-seeking
Adoption evidence	~ 30 acts/week in their Denver neighborhood ministry (Littleton micro-parish); a Mariposa-named neighbor publicly described being "more loved and intentionally seen and cared for" than anywhere she'd lived
Source	Pivotal People Podcast , Pulpit Rock v2

7.5 Calling vs. Assignment (2025 — Jeremy-forward article, dyad byline)

Term	Definition
Calling	"Overall trajectory oriented by God" — discerned via Hirsch's APEST as companion tool
Assignment	"Temporary action highlighted by the Holy Spirit" — may pause calling for a season (e.g., family crisis)

Field	Value
Introduced	2025-10-30 ("A Few Solutions for Compassion Fatigue," Missio Alliance)
Visual / model	Two-term distinction; no diagram
Companion tool	Alan Hirsch's APEST assessment for discerning calling
Adoption evidence	Public article only — no curriculum adoption documented
Source	Missio Alliance — Compassion Fatigue

A diagnostic for practitioners experiencing burnout from over-attachment to a specific assignment at the expense of broader calling.

7.6 Cycle of Grace (Trevor Hudson / Jerry Haas — adopted, not original)

Field	Value
Introduced	Not original to Chambers; adopted as their core compassion-fatigue diagnostic
Components	Acceptance → Sustenance → Significance → Fruitfulness; the reversed cycle (Fruitfulness → Significance → Sustenance → Acceptance) is the anti-pattern that leads to ministry depletion
Visual / model	Four-stage linear cycle
Adoption evidence	Taught in Chambers' Missio Alliance article (2025); referenced in Finishing Well (Renovaré 2022)
Source	Missio Alliance, Renovaré — Finishing Well

Listed for completeness because it recurs in their teaching. Borrowed framework, not their coinage.

7.7 Seven Characteristics of Finishing Well (Ken Boa — adopted)

From Ken Boa's Conformed to His Image — used as the structural spine of the Chambers' April 2022 Renovaré essay:

1. Intimacy with Christ (Being)
2. Fidelity to the spiritual disciplines (Being)
3. A biblical perspective on life's circumstances (Knowing)
4. A teachable, responsive, humble, and obedient spirit (Knowing)
5. A clear sense of personal purpose and calling (Doing)
6. Healthy relationships with resourceful people (Doing)
7. Ongoing ministry investment in the lives of others (Doing)

Field	Value
Source	Renovaré — Finishing Well
Note	The Chambers map these onto Boa's tri-axis Being / Knowing / Doing framework

7.8 Belonging before believing (adopted from missional church tradition)

Recurring claim in Kingdom Contours and podcast teaching: questioners belong with disciples before formal profession. Not original to the Chambers — present in Stuart Murray, Mike Frost, and others — but operative in their Arise / Pando praxis.

7.9 Grativangelism (2018 — Jeremy coinage)

Field	Value
Introduced	2018-07-27 (V3 Movement blog post "Grativangelism: Gratitude Evangelism")
Components	A practice-frame: gratitude expressed publicly toward neighbors and strangers as an evangelistic posture
Visual / model	—
Adoption evidence	Single V3 article; no curriculum or chapter expansion documented
Source	V3 Movement 2018-07-27

Minor coinage — included because it is the one term Jeremy has documentably invented.

9.4 Recommended reading order

Order	Work	Rationale
1	The Art of Missional Spirituality (2023)	His magnum opus and most accessible entry — 31 daily practices reveal both the integrative thesis (mission + contemplation) and the voice (practitioner-pastoral). The free chapter at subscribepage.io/free-chapter-of-the-art-of-missional-spirituality is the on-ramp.
2	Kingdom Contours — Revised Edition (2024-25)	The framework spine: six paradigms for kingdom movements, anchored in Hirsch's mDNA tradition. Best read after experiencing the rhythms.
3	"Praying the Hours" (Renovaré 2023)	A short article showing how the rhythm machinery from Art of Missional Spirituality operates in their own pandemic-era practice.
4	"A Few Solutions for Compassion Fatigue" (Missio Alliance 2025)	Most recent major essay; introduces Calling vs. Assignment and the Cycle of Grace as practical guards for sustainable mission.
5	"Finishing Well" (Renovaré 2022)	Ken-Boa-derived seven-characteristics frame; useful for understanding how they think about longevity.
6	"The Radiant Power of Spiritual Hope" (V3 2025)	Most recent V3 essay; positions hope as a missional virtue.
7	"An Ethic of Listening" (V3 2021)	Practitioner essay illustrating their incarnational ethics in microchurch settings.
8	Kingdom Contours (2020 original)	For comparison with revised edition only; later edition supersedes.

10. Voice fingerprint (load-bearing for agents)

Individual fingerprints differ slightly: Monica brings somatic breathing metaphor + practice-as-availability; Jeremy brings botanical/Pando metaphor + calling/assignment + V3-essayist cadence. Publish and audit as the dyad unless a surface is explicitly solo.

10.1 Weighted markers (sum to 100%)

Marker	Target	Weight
Contemplative-missional integration — every substantive piece holds intimacy with God and engagement with neighbors in a single frame; refuses sequential "formation then mission" or competing to-do items	≥ 0.75	22%
Co-authorial "we" voice — plural voice on all published surfaces; marriage as public missional unit	≥ 0.70	18%
Inductive practitioner cadence — opens with a concrete scene (Dead Sea, peace lily, pandemic walk, Costa Rican village, Daniel risking his life), moves to Scripture, then to a numbered framework or rhythm, then closes with a "try this" practice	0.60–0.85	15%
Practice-as-availability — disciplines position the soul to receive grace, not earn outcomes; never transactional "if you do X, God will do Y" framing	≥ 0.70	12%
Respiratory / somatic rhythm — breathing in/out; hyperventilate/suffocate pathology	≥ 0.55	8%
Botanical / ecological metaphor density — Pando (aspen colony), peace lily, harvest, cross-pollinate, flourish, multiply	≥ 0.50	8%
Communal Body-of-Christ framing — "we" as church; corporate prayer rhythms; communal practice over solo virtuosity	≥ 0.55	7%
Mentor citation density — Hirsch, Foster, Hudson, Boa, Woodward, Frost, Sanders, Renovaré without academic over-quoting; theologically literate but not academic in feel	≥ 0.50	6%
Belonging-before-believing hospitality	≥ 0.50	4%
Coherence target	≥ 0.75	—

10.2 Hallmark lexicon (dyad)

missional spirituality, sacred practices, microchurch / micro-church / micro-expressions of the church, kingdom movements, Jesus movements, movemental, incarnational living, missional-incarnational, disciple makers, Kingdom of Heaven (preferred over "Kingdom of God"), rhythm / rhythms / kingdom rhythms, breathing in / breathing out, Cycle of Grace, calling vs. assignment, Praying the Hours, secret acts of kindness, the Examen, availability to God, belonging before believing, the Body (capitalized, of Christ), Pando, naturally supernatural, cross-pollinate, flourish and multiply, sustainable mission, sent ones, grativangelism, transforming prayer, radiant hope, distraction (as spiritual threat).

10.3 Antithesis prohibition (non-negotiable)

1. Do not separate intimacy from mission, or contemplation from sentness. Their load-bearing rhetorical move is to refuse the dichotomy. Avoid writing as if formation and mission are sequential (first one, then the other), compartmentalized (mission for God and time with God as separate items on a to-do list), or hierarchical (the contemplative life as more "advanced" than the missional life). Source: TAoMS back-cover thesis.
2. Do not frame practices as transactional leverage or outcome guarantees. Monica explicitly disavows this on Pivotal People 2024 — "These practices are just you making yourself available to God, to connect with him and to be able to receive his goodness and his love." The substrate voice must keep practices in the register of availability, positioning, faithfulness, and receiving, never in the register of leverage or guarantee.
3. Do not absolutize microchurch as the only valid ecclesial form. They explicitly distance themselves from voices who treat microchurch as the only valid form — "Sometimes you'll find in one segment...people who are all about micro church and they're like it's the only way" (Pivotal People 2024).
4. Do not write solo-authoritative voice for either spouse on books or Renovaré pieces without explicit exception. Co-authorship is the public norm and the voice should reflect "we."
5. Do not seek credit-receiving framings of service. "I can serve someone and never have to receive credit. Goodness can be beautiful in its own right." (Pivotal People 2024).
6. Do not attribute the Tampa marketing Monica, the AI-operator Monica, or Army Capt. Jeremy to this corpus.

11. Theological positioning

Domain	Position
Tradition	Evangelical (Lancaster Bible College + TEDS formation; Renovaré Institute joint training) with strongly ecumenical contemplative bend; deep working partnership with Renovaré (Quaker-influenced spiritual-formation tradition); practicing affiliation: BGAV (Baptist General Association of Virginia) via Arise RVA / V3
Ecclesiology	Microchurch / network-of-microchurches ; non-denominational network style; explicitly anti-absolutist about microchurch ("not the only way")
Missiology	Incarnational ("missional-incarnational"); rejects attractional church-building as primary mission frame; frontier / global posture (40+ countries)
Leadership	Distributed / coaching-based; APEST-aligned (recommends Hirsch's assessment); Forge Training Director role embodies trainer-of-trainers posture
Christology	Christocentric — named as the first of Kingdom Contours' six paradigms ("Christocentric and Trinitarian — Centering on Jesus as Lord")
Anthropology / formation	Spiritual-disciplines tradition (Foster / Willard / Renovaré register); whole-person formation across Being / Knowing / Doing (Ken Boa frame adopted in Finishing Well); humans formed by rhythmic practices over time, not by discrete decisions; calling-not-assignment as identity frame; Foster's Six Streams referenced in joint social posts
Culture	Pro-engagement, anti-extractive; views distraction (not heresy, not opposition) as the dominant spiritual threat; comfortable with cross-cultural and urban contexts
Prayer / spirituality	Rooted in classical disciplines (Foster lineage): praying the hours, the Examen, centering prayer, solitude/silence, communion; uses Celtic prayer sources (Northumbria Community, Ffald y Brenin), Book of Common Prayer , Moravian daily texts , 24-7 Prayer movement (Lectio 365, Lectio for Families), Psalms 27, 63, 90, 143 as fixed-hour scaffolding

11.1 Distinctive claims (dyad)

- Mission and contemplation are one rhythm, not two stages. This is the load-bearing claim that distinguishes them from purely missional voices (Hirsch, Frost, Brisco — for whom contemplative formation is supportive but not constitutive) and from purely contemplative voices (Foster, Willard, Hudson — for whom mission is implication but not structure).
- Microchurch is a form, not the form. They distance themselves from movement absolutists in their own ecosystem. Unusual within microchurch advocacy literature.
- Distraction, not opposition, is the dominant spiritual threat. Sets them apart from cultural-warrior framings of the missional church.
- Calling vs. assignment as a distinct pastoral diagnostic. A practical contribution to compassion-fatigue / sustainable-mission discourse not present in upstream Renovaré or Forge teaching at this level of specificity.

- Co-authorship with spouse as norm. Almost all published work signed and written with the spouse — a marriage-as-writing-dyad model rare in the missional church publishing space (Alan and Debra Hirsch are the closest parallel).
 - 31-practice architecture pairs each inward discipline with outward send (unusual vs. retreat-then-return curricula).
 - Deep Community named as a discrete sixth Kingdom Contours paradigm (relational substrate for the other five).
 - Secrecy discipline elevated against approval-seeking (Sermon-on-the-Mount ethic — Secret Acts of Kindness as a primary discipline).

Jeremy & Monica Paredes Chambers — Movement Leader Research (Substrate)

Slug: jeremy-monica-chambers (dyad; individuals: jeremy-chambers, monica-chambers)

Version: 3.0.0 (substrate — deepened pass)

Last updated: 2026-05-22

Purpose: Machine-readable corpus for identity resolution, relational traversal, conceptual indexing, and voice fidelity. The operative public voice is the married practitioner dyad, not either spouse in isolation. Not a consulting report.

Research unit: Jeremy Chambers and Monica Paredes Chambers (maiden name Paredes; Costa Rica-born). Every book, Renovaré piece, podcast, and organizational role documented here is joint unless explicitly noted. Downstream agents must treat co-authored "we" voice, shared frameworks, and shared network edges as the default. This version supersedes prior per-person substrates by integrating new findings from the V3 author bio (Lancaster Bible College undergrad; "History of Christian Thought / Church History" TEDS MA — resolving a prior discrepancy), Renovaré Institute alumni status (both spouses), the Pulpit Rock partner spotlight v2 (granular neighborhood metrics; "reached thousands" framing for TAoMS), the 2025 V3 essay The Radiant Power of Spiritual Hope, Exponential 2026 session details, and a corrected liturgical-source inventory for Praying the Hours (Northumbria, Ffald y Brenin, Moravian daily texts, BCP, 24-7 Prayer).

Section ordering rationale (read first)

Sections are ordered most important → most ancillary for downstream consumption:

1. Executive summary — the 90-second take.
2. Subject verification — confirm we're talking about the right Monica + Jeremy.
3. Identity (dyad → Jeremy → Monica → marriage as missional unit).
4. Disambiguation — namesake exclusion modifiers.
5. Editorial bio — the canonical 3-paragraph prose synopsis.
6. Core thesis & distinctive contribution — the load-bearing intellectual claim of the corpus.
7. Frameworks — proprietary IP (31 Sacred Practices, Six Paradigms, etc.).
8. Magnum opus — The Art of Missional Spirituality in depth.

9. Bibliography — all published books with metadata + theme map + reading order.
 10. Voice fingerprint — load-bearing for AI agents reflecting their voice.
 11. Theological positioning — tradition, ecclesiology, distinctive claims.
 12. Intellectual genealogy — upstream, downstream, peers, tensions, comparables.
 13. Network graph — orgs, endorsements, JSON nodes + edges.
 14. Timeline — birth → present.
 15. Reach metrics — quantitative signals (flat table).
 16. Distribution inventory — books, articles, podcasts, video, courses, social, content gaps.
 17. Sources / provenance — every URL backing a non-obvious claim.
 18. Open questions — what the research could not establish.

1. Executive summary (90-second take)

Jeremy and Monica Paredes Chambers are a married missional author-practitioner dyad whose published work sits at a rare seam in contemporary movement theology — the seam between Richard Foster's Renovaré spiritual-formation tradition (Foster / Willard / Hudson / Boa lineage) and Alan Hirsch's Forge / 100 Movements / V3 missional-movement stream. Both are Renovaré Institute alumni and ongoing Renovaré Ministry Team members; Jeremy is the national Training Director of Forge America; together they co-lead the Arise Network (seven microchurches in the U.S. and abroad, originated as Arise RVA in Richmond, Virginia in 2013) and Pando Denver (20+ leaders) within Rowland Smith's Pando Collective. They report participation in launching disciple-making movements in 40+ countries.

Their magnum opus is The Art of Missional Spirituality: 31 Sacred Practices for Jesus-Followers (100 Movements Publishing, November 2023; foreword by Alan & Debra Hirsch) — a calendar-month curriculum of daily practices that refuses the binary between interior formation and exterior mission. Their earlier book Kingdom Contours (2020; revised edition 2024–25 with foreword by Alan Hirsch and Michael Frost) is a six-paradigm extension of Hirsch's mDNA into a microchurch planter's toolkit. Both books are 100% co-authored; Renovaré articles, Missio Alliance essays, and podcast appearances are also joint-bylined. The dyad's signature rhetorical move is respiratory metaphor: contemplation is "breathing in," mission is "breathing out," and either alone is fatal — "if you're always breathing out, you're gonna hyperventilate; if you're always breathing in, you're gonna suffocate."

Their distinctive contributions to the missional church discourse: (1) practice-level integration of contemplative discipline with neighborhood mission, pairing each interior practice with an outward send; (2) microchurch as form, not the form — explicit disavowal of microchurch absolutism, which is unusual within microchurch literature; (3) distraction (not opposition or heresy) named as the dominant spiritual threat in their 2025 Missio

Alliance essay; (4) calling vs. assignment as a pastoral diagnostic for compassion fatigue; (5) marriage as published missional form — co-authorship is the public norm, with the closest parallel being Alan & Debra Hirsch.

2. Subject verification (read before citing)

This dossier answers: Is this the Monica Chambers who co-leads missional microchurch work with Jeremy Chambers — and not a namesake?

Verification signal	Expected for our Monica	Confirmed
Full publication name	Monica Paredes Chambers (not "Monica Chambers" alone)	Yes — 100 Movements , Amazon , Missio Alliance author page
Spouse / co-author	Jeremy Chambers; shared site jemochambers.com	Yes
Books	The Art of Missional Spirituality (2023); Kingdom Contours (2020 / revised 2024-25) — always co-authored	Yes
Movement ecosystem	Forge America, Renovaré, 100 Movements Publishing, V3 / microchurch, Alan Hirsch forewords	Yes
Geography	Richmond, VA (≈2013-2019) → Denver metro, CO (Littleton area, ≈2022+)	Yes — Renovaré , Pulpit Rock
Monica heritage	Born Costa Rica ; family missionary relocation to Lancaster, PA; Latin American church-plant context	Yes — Everyday Disciple , jemochambers.com
Monica excluded identities	Tampa marketing author; LinkedIn AI/tech operator; "Monique Chambers" Amazon author	No collision when modifiers above are used

Jeremy disambiguation: Subject is Jeremy "Jemo" Chambers, Forge / Pando / Arise missional practitioner — not U.S. Army Capt. Jeremy Chambers (FAO, 2026), Bandcamp musician, Australian jockey, or Japan-based educator EdD.

Conclusion: All substantive conclusions in this file trace to Monica Paredes Chambers + Jeremy Chambers, the missional author-practitioner dyad. No alternate Monica Chambers drove framework, bibliography, or voice conclusions.

5. Editorial bio (3 paragraphs)

Jeremy and Monica Paredes Chambers are a married author-practitioner team operating at the seam between Renovaré-style contemplative formation (Foster / Willard / Hudson / Boa lineage) and the Hirsch-Frost / Forge / 100 Movements missional-movement stream — a juncture few writers in the contemporary missional church meaningfully inhabit. Monica's formation arc moves from Costa Rica through a missionary family's relocation to Lancaster, Pennsylvania — where her parents planted a Latin American congregation for the U.S. Hispanic context — into a decade of microchurch planting in Richmond, Virginia and, since approximately 2022, into the Denver metro (Littleton), where they practice incarnational neighborhood mission and report roughly thirty acts of kindness per week across their micro-parish. Jeremy (born ~1986) reports praying about a future move to Denver since age thirteen — a vocational specificity that anticipated nearly two decades of geographic and ministerial trajectory.

After Jeremy's B.A. in Bible at Lancaster Bible College and two master's degrees from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School (M.A. Intercultural Studies; M.A. History of Christian Thought / Church History) and the couple's joint completion of the Renovaré Institute, they founded Arise RVA Church Network in Richmond in 2013 — a network of microchurches that grew to roughly seven communities and affiliated with the V3 Movement under the Baptist General Association of Virginia. In late 2019 the family relocated to Denver to help Rowland Smith launch the Denver expression of The Pando Collective, a Front Range network for missional micro-expressions of the church. Jeremy serves as Training Director of Forge America (the U.S. arm of Alan Hirsch's globally-networked missional training movement), making him a curricular gatekeeper for the next generation of Forge-formed practitioners. Both are ongoing Renovaré Ministry Team participants (attended a 2024 ministry team retreat) and Pastors Retreat 2022 featured speakers.

Their two books — Kingdom Contours (2020; revised 2024–25) and The Art of Missional Spirituality (November 2023) — are both co-authored with Monica and both published in the 100 Movements Publishing orbit, with forewords by Alan Hirsch, Debra Hirsch, and Michael Frost. The Art of Missional Spirituality (31 sacred practices, foreword by Alan & Debra Hirsch) is their magnum opus: a calendar-structured fusion of contemplative discipline and neighborhood mission designed to refuse the modern dichotomy between "intimacy with God" and "engagement with neighbors." Across Renovaré articles (2022, 2023), the V3 Movement blog (2018–2025), a 2025 Missio Alliance essay on compassion fatigue, and a 2024 launch podcast circuit (Renovaré Life With God, Pivotal People, Dandelion Resourcing, Everyday Disciple, Shifting Culture #197), their work consistently presents missional life as a respiratory rhythm, not a strategy — formation and sentness folded into a single way, carried in public almost exclusively as we.

6. Core thesis & distinctive contribution

The Chambers' load-bearing intellectual claim — the proposition that distinguishes them from peers in either upstream tradition — is respiratory missional spirituality: contemplation and mission are not sequential stages, hierarchical levels, or competing items on a to-do list; they are two phases of one breath, and either alone is fatal.

This thesis is sharper than it sounds in summary because it does double duty:

- Against pure-contemplative voices (Foster, Willard, Hudson, Renovaré-as-such), the Chambers refuse the "retreat-and-return" pattern in which formation precedes mission. They argue mission is part of formation; the neighbor is not the destination but the locus where the practice itself completes.
- Against pure-missional voices (Hirsch, Frost, Brisco, Forge-as-such), the Chambers refuse the substitution of activism for interior life. Compassion fatigue, in their 2025 Missio Alliance diagnosis, is self-inflicted by overexposure to crisis without the corresponding inward breath.

The proposition is operationalized in The Art of Missional Spirituality's 31-practice calendar architecture, where each interior discipline is paired with an outward send — solitude pairs with secret acts of kindness; praying the hours pairs with neighborhood prayer rhythms; centering pairs with hospitality. This pairing is unusual in the spiritual formation literature, which more typically arranges practices on a single inward axis. It is also unusual in the missional church literature, which more typically arranges practices on a single outward axis. The pairing — and the calendar that forces it daily — is the Chambers' proprietary architectural move.

A second distinctive contribution: non-absolutism within microchurch advocacy. Most microchurch literature (Hirsch on house church, Sanders on Underground, Cole on organic church) implicitly or explicitly elevates the form. The Chambers explicitly disavow this — "Sometimes you'll find in one segment...people who are all about micro church and they're like it's the only way" (Pivotal People 2024) — placing them in the unusual posture of microchurch practitioners who model the form without absolutizing it.

A third distinctive contribution: distraction (not heresy, not opposition) as the dominant spiritual threat. Their 2025 Missio Alliance essay names "Distraction may be the single most damaging danger to the inner life with Jesus" — a diagnosis that sets them apart from the cultural-warrior framings dominant in evangelical missional church discourse and aligns them more with the contemplative diagnosis of accidie / acedia.

A fourth distinctive contribution: calling vs. assignment as a discrete pastoral diagnostic for sustainable mission. Calling = overall trajectory oriented by God (companion tool: Hirsch's APEST). Assignment = temporary Spirit-highlighted action (may pause calling for, e.g., a family crisis). The distinction is not present at this level of specificity in either the upstream Renovaré or upstream Forge teaching, and it serves as the Chambers' practical contribution to the compassion-fatigue / sustainable-mission discourse.

A fifth distinctive contribution: co-authorship with spouse as the published norm — paralleling Alan & Debra Hirsch, but at a level of completeness (every book; every Renovaré article; almost every podcast appearance) that is rare across the missional publishing space. The Chambers model marriage itself as a public missional unit.

7. Frameworks

7.1 The Art of Missional Spirituality — 31 Sacred Practices (2023)

Field	Value
Authors	Jeremy & Monica Paredes Chambers (foreword: Alan & Debra Hirsch)
Introduced	2023-11-09, The Art of Missional Spirituality: 31 Sacred Practices for Jesus-Followers (100 Movements Publishing)
Thesis	Mission and contemplation are one integrated way of life — "spirituality that doesn't draw you away from your neighbors but propels you into the lives of others and the needs of your city."
Structure	31 daily practices (one month) configurable as a weekly cadence across a year. Each practice pairs an interior posture with an exterior send.
Practice families (visible across sources)	(a) Prayer-focused — praying the hours, soaking prayer, centering prayer, intercession, the Lord's Prayer, Psalm 23 as transforming prayer, the Examen; (b) Scripture engagement — creative memorization alternatives, immersion (e.g., Ecclesiastes month-immersion); (c) Relational/missional — secret acts of kindness, spiritual friendship, solitude/silence paired with neighborhood presence, hospitality, walking prayer, blessing one's city
Visual / model	One-month linear calendar (31 practices); also configurable as weekly rhythm across a year. Recurring image: rhythm holding contemplative and missional poles together.
Adoption evidence	Goodreads 4.47 ★ / 17 ratings (May 2026); "reached thousands" per Pulpit Rock 2024 partner spotlight; curriculum use in Pando Denver (20+ leaders), Arise Network (7 microchurches), and Forge cohorts; foreword by Alan & Debra Hirsch
Source	Amazon , 100 Movements , jemo chambers.com

The framework's argument: spiritual practices are positioning for the soul to receive grace (not transactional leverage to earn outcomes), and each interior practice is incomplete without its outward companion. The 31-day cadence forces the integration by daily juxtaposition rather than allowing the reader to settle into a single axis.

7.2 Breathing in / Breathing out (signature metaphor — Monica-forward in podcasts)

Field	Value
Introduced	Articulated publicly in Everyday Disciple podcast (2024); recurs in Pivotal People (Jan 2024), Shifting Culture (Jul 2024), and joint Forge teaching
Components	(1) Breathing in = contemplation, silence, prayer, Scripture, communion; (2) Breathing out = mission, neighbor-presence, acts of kindness, planting, hospitality; (3) Pathology of imbalance — "if you're always breathing out, you're gonna hyperventilate; if you're always breathing in, you're gonna suffocate"
Visual / model	Respiration metaphor; somatic / bodily framing for spiritual formation
Adoption evidence	Used as Monica's primary teaching frame across podcast appearances; recurring in spoken teaching
Source	Everyday Disciple Podcast , Pivotal People S2E70

The frame is Monica's signature critique of both burnout-prone missional activism and disengaged contemplation: each is fatal in isolation; only the respiratory rhythm sustains. It functions as the spoken-word version of the written 31-practice architecture.

7.3 Kingdom Contours — Six Foundational Paradigms (2020 / revised 2024-25)

#	Paradigm	Source
1	Christocentric and Trinitarian — centering on Jesus as Lord	100 Movements
2	Discipleship — being and making Jesus followers	idem
3	Incarnational Living — adopting a missional strategic mindset	idem
4	Movement Wisdom — embracing movemental approaches (mDNA / Hirsch)	idem
5	Organic Systems — structuring for multiplication	idem
6	Deep Community — taking risks through faith	idem

Field	Value
Introduced	2020 (Kingdom Contours: Empowering Everyday People); refined 2024–25 (Kingdom Contours: Foundations, Paradigms, and Tools for Equipping Jesus Movements, revised)
Explicit blueprint	Alan Hirsch's The Forgotten Ways / mDNA ; explicit reference to mDNA architecture
Appendix	"Baby Steps: How to Start a Micro-Church" — operational tooling
Adoption evidence	~1,000 readers cited (Pulpit Rock 2024); used as Arise / Pando / Forge curricular spine; revised ed. carries forewords by Alan Hirsch + Michael Frost
Source	100 Movements , Amazon revised , Everand 1st ed.

The framework extends Hirsch's mDNA into a planter-facing toolkit. The distinctive contribution is foregrounding Deep Community as a discrete sixth paradigm — the relational substrate that the other five depend on. Twenty years of coaching is cited on the 100 Movements page; ~100 global plants/ministries are claimed as observation base.

7.4 Secret acts of kindness (practice + neighborhood metric)

Field	Value
Introduced	One of the 31 Sacred Practices; expounded in Pivotal People podcast (Jan 2024)
Components	Anonymous good deeds; refusing recognition or credit; surrendering outcomes to God; aligned to Sermon-on-the-Mount secrecy ethic
Visual / model	Counter-formation discipline against approval-seeking
Adoption evidence	~ 30 acts/week in their Denver neighborhood ministry (Littleton micro-parish); a Mariposa-named neighbor publicly described being "more loved and intentionally seen and cared for" than anywhere she'd lived
Source	Pivotal People Podcast , Pulpit Rock v2

7.5 Calling vs. Assignment (2025 — Jeremy-forward article, dyad byline)

Term	Definition
Calling	"Overall trajectory oriented by God" — discerned via Hirsch's APEST as companion tool
Assignment	"Temporary action highlighted by the Holy Spirit" — may pause calling for a season (e.g., family crisis)

Field	Value
Introduced	2025-10-30 ("A Few Solutions for Compassion Fatigue," Missio Alliance)
Visual / model	Two-term distinction; no diagram
Companion tool	Alan Hirsch's APEST assessment for discerning calling
Adoption evidence	Public article only — no curriculum adoption documented
Source	Missio Alliance — Compassion Fatigue

A diagnostic for practitioners experiencing burnout from over-attachment to a specific assignment at the expense of broader calling.

7.6 Cycle of Grace (Trevor Hudson / Jerry Haas — adopted, not original)

Field	Value
Introduced	Not original to Chambers; adopted as their core compassion-fatigue diagnostic
Components	Acceptance → Sustenance → Significance → Fruitfulness; the reversed cycle (Fruitfulness → Significance → Sustenance → Acceptance) is the anti-pattern that leads to ministry depletion
Visual / model	Four-stage linear cycle
Adoption evidence	Taught in Chambers' Missio Alliance article (2025); referenced in Finishing Well (Renovaré 2022)
Source	Missio Alliance, Renovaré — Finishing Well

Listed for completeness because it recurs in their teaching. Borrowed framework, not their coinage.

7.7 Seven Characteristics of Finishing Well (Ken Boa — adopted)

From Ken Boa's Conformed to His Image — used as the structural spine of the Chambers' April 2022 Renovaré essay:

1. Intimacy with Christ (Being)
2. Fidelity to the spiritual disciplines (Being)
3. A biblical perspective on life's circumstances (Knowing)
4. A teachable, responsive, humble, and obedient spirit (Knowing)
5. A clear sense of personal purpose and calling (Doing)
6. Healthy relationships with resourceful people (Doing)
7. Ongoing ministry investment in the lives of others (Doing)

Field	Value
Source	Renovaré — Finishing Well
Note	The Chambers map these onto Boa's tri-axis Being / Knowing / Doing framework

7.8 Belonging before believing (adopted from missional church tradition)

Recurring claim in Kingdom Contours and podcast teaching: questioners belong with disciples before formal profession. Not original to the Chambers — present in Stuart Murray, Mike Frost, and others — but operative in their Arise / Pando praxis.

7.9 Grativangelism (2018 — Jeremy coinage)

Field	Value
Introduced	2018-07-27 (V3 Movement blog post "Grativangelism: Gratitude Evangelism")
Components	A practice-frame: gratitude expressed publicly toward neighbors and strangers as an evangelistic posture
Visual / model	—
Adoption evidence	Single V3 article; no curriculum or chapter expansion documented
Source	V3 Movement 2018-07-27

Minor coinage — included because it is the one term Jeremy has documentably invented.

9.4 Recommended reading order

Order	Work	Rationale
1	The Art of Missional Spirituality (2023)	His magnum opus and most accessible entry — 31 daily practices reveal both the integrative thesis (mission + contemplation) and the voice (practitioner-pastoral). The free chapter at subscribepage.io/free-chapter-of-the-art-of-missional-spirituality is the on-ramp.
2	Kingdom Contours — Revised Edition (2024-25)	The framework spine: six paradigms for kingdom movements, anchored in Hirsch's mDNA tradition. Best read after experiencing the rhythms.
3	"Praying the Hours" (Renovaré 2023)	A short article showing how the rhythm machinery from Art of Missional Spirituality operates in their own pandemic-era practice.
4	"A Few Solutions for Compassion Fatigue" (Missio Alliance 2025)	Most recent major essay; introduces Calling vs. Assignment and the Cycle of Grace as practical guards for sustainable mission.
5	"Finishing Well" (Renovaré 2022)	Ken-Boa-derived seven-characteristics frame; useful for understanding how they think about longevity.
6	"The Radiant Power of Spiritual Hope" (V3 2025)	Most recent V3 essay; positions hope as a missional virtue.
7	"An Ethic of Listening" (V3 2021)	Practitioner essay illustrating their incarnational ethics in microchurch settings.
8	Kingdom Contours (2020 original)	For comparison with revised edition only; later edition supersedes.

10. Voice fingerprint (load-bearing for agents)

Individual fingerprints differ slightly: Monica brings somatic breathing metaphor + practice-as-availability; Jeremy brings botanical/Pando metaphor + calling/assignment + V3-essayist cadence. Publish and audit as the dyad unless a surface is explicitly solo.

10.1 Weighted markers (sum to 100%)

Marker	Target	Weight
Contemplative-missional integration — every substantive piece holds intimacy with God and engagement with neighbors in a single frame; refuses sequential "formation then mission" or competing to-do items	≥ 0.75	22%
Co-authorial "we" voice — plural voice on all published surfaces; marriage as public missional unit	≥ 0.70	18%
Inductive practitioner cadence — opens with a concrete scene (Dead Sea, peace lily, pandemic walk, Costa Rican village, Daniel risking his life), moves to Scripture, then to a numbered framework or rhythm, then closes with a "try this" practice	0.60–0.85	15%
Practice-as-availability — disciplines position the soul to receive grace, not earn outcomes; never transactional "if you do X, God will do Y" framing	≥ 0.70	12%
Respiratory / somatic rhythm — breathing in/out; hyperventilate/suffocate pathology	≥ 0.55	8%
Botanical / ecological metaphor density — Pando (aspen colony), peace lily, harvest, cross-pollinate, flourish, multiply	≥ 0.50	8%
Communal Body-of-Christ framing — "we" as church; corporate prayer rhythms; communal practice over solo virtuosity	≥ 0.55	7%
Mentor citation density — Hirsch, Foster, Hudson, Boa, Woodward, Frost, Sanders, Renovaré without academic over-quoting; theologically literate but not academic in feel	≥ 0.50	6%
Belonging-before-believing hospitality	≥ 0.50	4%
Coherence target	≥ 0.75	—

10.2 Hallmark lexicon (dyad)

missional spirituality, sacred practices, microchurch / micro-church / micro-expressions of the church, kingdom movements, Jesus movements, movemental, incarnational living, missional-incarnational, disciple makers, Kingdom of Heaven (preferred over "Kingdom of God"), rhythm / rhythms / kingdom rhythms, breathing in / breathing out, Cycle of Grace, calling vs. assignment, Praying the Hours, secret acts of kindness, the Examen, availability to God, belonging before believing, the Body (capitalized, of Christ), Pando, naturally supernatural, cross-pollinate, flourish and multiply, sustainable mission, sent ones, grativangelism, transforming prayer, radiant hope, distraction (as spiritual threat).

10.3 Antithesis prohibition (non-negotiable)

1. Do not separate intimacy from mission, or contemplation from sentness. Their load-bearing rhetorical move is to refuse the dichotomy. Avoid writing as if formation and mission are sequential (first one, then the other), compartmentalized (mission for God and time with God as separate items on a to-do list), or hierarchical (the contemplative life as more "advanced" than the missional life). Source: TAoMS back-cover thesis.
2. Do not frame practices as transactional leverage or outcome guarantees. Monica explicitly disavows this on Pivotal People 2024 — "These practices are just you making yourself available to God, to connect with him and to be able to receive his goodness and his love." The substrate voice must keep practices in the register of availability, positioning, faithfulness, and receiving, never in the register of leverage or guarantee.
3. Do not absolutize microchurch as the only valid ecclesial form. They explicitly distance themselves from voices who treat microchurch as the only valid form — "Sometimes you'll find in one segment...people who are all about micro church and they're like it's the only way" (Pivotal People 2024).
4. Do not write solo-authoritative voice for either spouse on books or Renovaré pieces without explicit exception. Co-authorship is the public norm and the voice should reflect "we."
5. Do not seek credit-receiving framings of service. "I can serve someone and never have to receive credit. Goodness can be beautiful in its own right." (Pivotal People 2024).
6. Do not attribute the Tampa marketing Monica, the AI-operator Monica, or Army Capt. Jeremy to this corpus.

11. Theological positioning

Domain	Position
Tradition	Evangelical (Lancaster Bible College + TEDS formation; Renovaré Institute joint training) with strongly ecumenical contemplative bend; deep working partnership with Renovaré (Quaker-influenced spiritual-formation tradition); practicing affiliation: BGAV (Baptist General Association of Virginia) via Arise RVA / V3
Ecclesiology	Microchurch / network-of-microchurches ; non-denominational network style; explicitly anti-absolutist about microchurch ("not the only way")
Missiology	Incarnational ("missional-incarnational"); rejects attractional church-building as primary mission frame; frontier / global posture (40+ countries)
Leadership	Distributed / coaching-based; APEST-aligned (recommends Hirsch's assessment); Forge Training Director role embodies trainer-of-trainers posture
Christology	Christocentric — named as the first of Kingdom Contours' six paradigms ("Christocentric and Trinitarian — Centering on Jesus as Lord")
Anthropology / formation	Spiritual-disciplines tradition (Foster / Willard / Renovaré register); whole-person formation across Being / Knowing / Doing (Ken Boa frame adopted in Finishing Well); humans formed by rhythmic practices over time, not by discrete decisions; calling-not-assignment as identity frame; Foster's Six Streams referenced in joint social posts
Culture	Pro-engagement, anti-extractive; views distraction (not heresy, not opposition) as the dominant spiritual threat; comfortable with cross-cultural and urban contexts
Prayer / spirituality	Rooted in classical disciplines (Foster lineage): praying the hours, the Examen, centering prayer, solitude/silence, communion; uses Celtic prayer sources (Northumbria Community, Ffald y Brenin), Book of Common Prayer , Moravian daily texts , 24-7 Prayer movement (Lectio 365, Lectio for Families), Psalms 27, 63, 90, 143 as fixed-hour scaffolding

11.1 Distinctive claims (dyad)

- Mission and contemplation are one rhythm, not two stages. This is the load-bearing claim that distinguishes them from purely missional voices (Hirsch, Frost, Brisco — for whom contemplative formation is supportive but not constitutive) and from purely contemplative voices (Foster, Willard, Hudson — for whom mission is implication but not structure).
- Microchurch is a form, not the form. They distance themselves from movement absolutists in their own ecosystem. Unusual within microchurch advocacy literature.
- Distraction, not opposition, is the dominant spiritual threat. Sets them apart from cultural-warrior framings of the missional church.
- Calling vs. assignment as a distinct pastoral diagnostic. A practical contribution to compassion-fatigue / sustainable-mission discourse not present in upstream Renovaré or Forge teaching at this level of specificity.

- Co-authorship with spouse as norm. Almost all published work signed and written with the spouse — a marriage-as-writing-dyad model rare in the missional church publishing space (Alan and Debra Hirsch are the closest parallel).
 - 31-practice architecture pairs each inward discipline with outward send (unusual vs. retreat-then-return curricula).
 - Deep Community named as a discrete sixth Kingdom Contours paradigm (relational substrate for the other five).
 - Secrecy discipline elevated against approval-seeking (Sermon-on-the-Mount ethic — Secret Acts of Kindness as a primary discipline).
