Digital Reality Profile: Rowland Smith

Research Date: January 2025 (verified April 2026)

Confidence Level: High

Executive Summary

Dr. Leo Rowland Smith ("L. Rowland Smith") is a Colorado Springs-based pastor, missional practitioner, author, and academic. He is the National Director of Forge America Mission Training Network, Founder/Director of The Pando Collective (a Front-Range micro-church network), and Pastor of Missional Culture at The Church at Pulpit Rock. He also serves as adjunct faculty at Fuller Theological Seminary (DGL Program), Denver Seminary (Leadership and Doctor of Ministry in New Missional Movements), and Grand Canyon University, holding an MA in Global Leadership and a DMiss from Fuller. His prior chapters include church-planting, worship pastoring, founding the missional B-a-M coffee shop Third Space Coffee with his wife, and a career in portfolio management / investment analysis.

He has authored Life Out Loud: Joining Jesus Outside the Walls of the Church (100 Movements Publishing, 2019) and curated/edited Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations Exploring Our Future as the Church (100 Movements Publishing, 2022) — a multi-author conversation with Alan Hirsch, Michael Frost, Debra Hirsch, Brian Sanders, Gregory Coles, Mark DeYmaz, Rich Robinson, Oneya Okuwobi, Tyler Kleeberger, and others. His Fuller dissertation, Missional Emergence, has a Google Books authority record under the byline Leo Rowland Smith.

His digital presence is distributed across many domains he influences but does not centralize: a thinly-used personal site (rowlandsmith.net), an active X account (@Rowland_L_Smith), three seminary directory pages, two Wix-built network sites (forgeamerica.com, thepandocollective.com), the Pulpit Rock staff page, the Red Skies companion site (redskiesfuture.com), Missio Alliance editorial archive, and conference partner pages (Exponential, Mosaix, Awakenings Gathering). He guests on podcasts (Forge America Missional Podcast, Curious Friends, Red Skies/Missio Alliance, Koinesúnē) but does not yet host a personal show or run a personal newsletter.

Key Findings:

- National Director of Forge America Mission Training Network (verified)
- Founder/Director of The Pando Collective — Front-Range micro-church network (verified)
- Pastor of Missional Culture at Pulpit Rock Church, Colorado Springs (verified)
- Adjunct faculty at three institutions (Fuller, Denver Seminary, GCU)
- Two trade books + one published doctoral dissertation

- Active national speaking circuit: Exponential Global 2025 / West 2026 / Global 2026, Mosaix, Awakenings Gathering, Forge cohorts, Denver Seminary DMin teaching weeks
- Active X profile (@Rowland_L_Smith); LinkedIn and personal Instagram presence not URL-verified in this pass
- Strong tie to the broader Forge / Hirsch missional ecosystem

Primary Opportunities:

- Promote rowlandsmith.net from a thin landing page to a true content hub interconnecting books, articles, podcast appearances, and training
- Repurpose the Red Skies "10 conversations" framework into an evergreen content series
- Convert Forge America cohort and seminary teaching content into public articles, mini-courses, and short-form video
- Expand editorial cadence (the Missio Alliance / V3 / Forge bylines exist but are not regular)
- Establish an owned subscription/membership channel (newsletter, paid community) — currently absent
- Centralize discoverability so the surname collision problem stops fragmenting his SEO

Content is split across personal (rowlandsmith.net + X), networks he leads (forgeamerica.com + thepandocollective.com), local church (pulpitrock.com), academic (fuller.edu, denverseminary.edu, gcu.edu), publisher/retail (100mpublishing.com, redskiesfuture.com, Amazon, Goodreads, Christianbook, MX Platform), editorial (missioalliance.org, V3, Gazette, Koinesúnē), and conference partners (exponential.org, mosaixconference.com, awakeningsgathering.com).

- Conference / training video: Active circuit; no personal YouTube channel discovered
- Social posts: Primary on X; Pando Instagram for org content

Content Themes

- Published: Life Out Loud as personal monograph; Red Skies as curated 10-essay framework with companion site + podcast series
- Local church: sermons via Pulpit Rock messages archive (links noted, not pulled)

Content Interconnection: Limited. Each domain hosts a slice; nothing on rowlandsmith.net pulls them together into a unified library, and there is no canonical bibliography or reading-order on his personal site.

Discoverability Assessment

SEO & Indexing

- Strong for queries combining his name with Forge America, Pando, Red Skies, or Pulpit Rock
- Vulnerable to surname collisions (multiple unrelated public figures share variants of his name)
- Books: well-indexed across Amazon, Goodreads, Christianbook, AbeBooks, BooksRun, eBay, MX Platform, RJ Julia, 100M Publishing, redskiesfuture.com
- Personal site: indexed but appears to do little to anchor canonical authority

Social Sharing

- X account active; cadence not measured in this pass
- Pando IG provides organizational social channel; personal Instagram not URL-verified
- No personal YouTube/Vimeo channel found

Domain Authority

- High via Fuller, Denver Seminary, Missio Alliance, Amazon, Goodreads
- Mid via forgeamerica.com, thepandocollective.com, redskiesfuture.com, pulpitrock.com
- Low via personal rowlandsmith.net (likely Squarespace; thin)

Narrative biography

Dr. Leo Rowland Smith ("L. Rowland Smith") is a Colorado Springs-based pastor, missional practitioner, author, and adjunct educator. He leads at the intersection of national mission training, regional micro-church networking, and local church culture: as National Director of Forge America Mission Training Network, Founder and Director of The Pando Collective (Front-Range micro-church network nested in Pulpit Rock Church), and Pastor of Missional Culture at The Church at Pulpit Rock. He teaches adjunctively at Fuller Theological Seminary (DGL), Denver Seminary (including the Doctor of Ministry in New Missional Movements), and Grand Canyon University.

His published work includes Life Out Loud: Joining Jesus Outside the Walls of the Church (100 Movements Publishing, 2019; with Michael Frost's contribution on the volume) and Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations Exploring Our Future as the Church (100 Movements Publishing, 2022), which he curated as a multi-author conversation with leaders such as Alan Hirsch, Michael Frost, Debra Hirsch, Brian Sanders, Gregory Coles, Mark DeYmaz, Rich Robinson, Oneya Okuwobi, Tyler Kleeberger, Lisa Rodriguez-Watson, Jay Y. Kim, Leonard Sweet, Michael Adam Beck, and Anna Robinson — with a companion site and Missio Alliance podcast tie-in. His Fuller dissertation, Missional Emergence, appears under the byline Leo Rowland Smith in Google Books metadata.

Earlier chapters of ministry reportedly include church planting, worship pastorship, co-founding the missional coffee shop Third Space Coffee with his wife, and a prior career in portfolio management and investment analysis. His public themes cluster around missional discipleship, action-reflection learning, micro-church multiplication, and multi-ethnic / cultural posture in the church — articulated in print, on Missio Alliance, through Forge America cohorts, and on national conference stages (Exponential, Mosaix, Awakenings).

Intellectual and movement lineage

Smith operates in the Forge / Alan Hirsch missional ecosystem: Forge America national leadership, 100 Movements Publishing, Red Skies contributor circle, and Missio Alliance editorial presence place him among practitioner-scholars translating missional ecclesiology into training systems and local experiments (Pando as regional case study).

Frameworks

docs/movement_leader_research/_onboarded_leaders/rowland-smith/content/frameworks.md

Frameworks: L. Rowland Smith

Status: Complete (grounded in published corpus)

Last updated: 2026-06-05

Confidence: HIGH on framework existence and naming. Smith has no formally diagrammed or trademarked framework comparable to APEST / mDNA; these are named, recurring constructs documented in his corpus.

Smith's constructs form one coherent practice: disciples are formed by doing mission and reflecting on it (action-reflection), ordinary believers are commissioned to join Jesus outside the walls, the church's future is best discerned as a curated multi-voice conversation, and micro-church networks like Pando carry it into a region.

Action-Reflection Discipleship

| Field             | Value                                                                                                                                          |
|-------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Introduced        | Codified in the Missio Alliance essay An Action-Reflection Approach to Discipleship unto Jesus and his Fuller dissertation Missional Emergence |
| Components        | "Learning by doing" before propositional knowledge; an action → reflection learning cycle driving missional formation                          |
| Visual / model    | — (no published diagram located)                                                                                                               |
| Adoption evidence | Powers the Forge America cohort curriculum and his Denver Seminary DMin (New Missional Movements) teaching weeks                               |
| Source            | missioalliance.org                                                                                    |

An action-reflection pedagogy holding that disciples are formed by doing mission and then reflecting on it, rather than by acquiring propositional knowledge first — the methodological backbone of his Forge cohort design.

The central thesis of Life Out Loud: ordinary believers are commissioned as everyday missionaries in their own contexts, not spectators inside church walls.

The Fragmentation Story

docs/movement_leader_research/_onboarded_leaders/rowland-smith/fragmentation-story.md

Leo Rowland Smith: The Fragmentation Story

Generated 2026-04-15 by the `fragmentation-story` skill from existing research in `docs/movement_leader_research/rowland-smith/`.

The Story

Dr. Leo Rowland Smith runs four institutions at once. He is the National Director of Forge America Mission Training Network, the Founder/Director of The Pando Collective on the Front Range, the Pastor of Missional Culture at The Church at Pulpit Rock in Colorado Springs, and adjunct faculty at three accredited seminaries — Fuller (DGL), Denver Seminary (DMin in New Missional Movements), and Grand Canyon University. He has written one book (Life Out Loud, 100 Movements Publishing, 2019), curated another (Red Skies, 100 Movements Publishing, 2022, with Alan Hirsch, Michael Frost, Debra Hirsch, Brian Sanders, Leonard Sweet, and eleven other contributors), and defended a Fuller dissertation (Missional Emergence) now sitting in Google Books under the byline "Leo Rowland Smith." And in 2026 alone he is listed as a speaker at Exponential Global, Exponential West, Mosaix, and the Awakenings Gathering.

None of that lives in one place. His personal site at rowlandsmith.net has a `/bio` page and a `/speaking` page and effectively nothing else — during the April 2026 research pass it returned `ECONNREFUSED` to programmatic fetches, meaning even the crawlers that try to find him bounce off. His books are sold through Amazon, Goodreads, Christianbook, AbeBooks, BooksRun, eBay, MX Platform, RJ Julia, and 100mpublishing.com — nine retail surfaces — but there is no canonical "where to start with Rowland's work" page on any site he controls. The Red Skies companion site redskiesfuture.com hosts a sample chapter and contributors page; it does not link back to his hub. His Missio Alliance essay An Action-Reflection Approach to Discipleship unto Jesus — which codifies the methodology that powers his entire Forge America cohort curriculum — lives at missioalliance.org/author/rowland-smith/ and is unlinked from both books. The two organizations he leads, forgeamerica.com and thepandocollective.com, are both built on Wix and render heavily client-side, which means search engines see the chrome and miss the content.

He does not have a newsletter. He does not have a personal podcast — he guests on at least four (Forge America Episode 73, Curious Friends September 2022, the Missio Alliance Red Skies series, and Koinesúnē) but hosts none of them. He does not have a personal YouTube channel — his teaching video lives on Pulpit Rock's sermon archive at `/messages/` and in Forge America's Wix-embedded library, neither of which is keyed to his name. His LinkedIn and personal Instagram cannot be verified at URL level because Google collisions with a retired MLB pitcher (Ryan Rowland-Smith, @hyphen18), a UK author (Dr. Robert Rowland Smith, @dr_robert_rowland_smith), and the hosts of "The Smith and Rowland Show" (Alan Smith + Jeff Rowland) swamp the results.

The defining feature of his fragmentation is not absence — it is that every embodied activity he runs has a digital surface somewhere, and no two surfaces point at each other. A reader who finishes Life Out Loud cannot find his dissertation from it. A DMin student at Denver Seminary cannot find his Red Skies conversations from the seminary page. A pastor who hears him at Mosaix on "A Needed Posture of the Church for Our Culture Today" cannot find the Missio Alliance essay where he lays out the action-reflection frame that posture rests on. A Forge America cohort alumnus cannot follow him into Pando; a Pando network leader cannot follow him into the book. The work is everywhere. The through-line is nowhere.

- No self-hosted or online course (Teachable, Thinkific, Kajabi, self-hosted LMS) discovered under his name

Assessments & Tools

- No assessment tool (comparable to Alan Hirsch's APEST) discovered under his name.
- Kingdom Dream Grants (Pando Collective program, likely application-style workflow rather than an assessment): <https://thepandocollective.com>
- Action-Reflection methodology exists as a codified approach (Missio Alliance essay + dissertation) but is not operationalized as a public diagnostic instrument or scored tool.

Apps / Software

- None discovered. No mobile app, web app, or SaaS product under his name or under Forge America / Pando.

Notes, Laptop, Unpublished

- UNKNOWN — likely substantial, not yet catalogued. Given a DMiss, two books, a multi-year dissertation, cohort design for Forge America, curriculum for a DMin program, sermon preparation at Pulpit Rock, and talks at Exponential / Mosaix / Awakenings, the private-notes layer (Scrivener files, Google Docs, Apple Notes, sermon outlines, syllabus drafts, Forge facilitator guides, Pando coaching templates) is almost certainly the largest single pool of content he owns — and the research cannot see any of it.

Embodied / In Their Head

- Forge America cohort formation — relational and embodied; curriculum exists but the formation happens in the room
- Pando Collective network intuition — which leaders to match with which micro-expressions; which businesses to back with Kingdom Dream Grants; which stories represent the Front Range accurately
- Multi-seminary teaching arc — repeated year over year at Fuller / Denver / GCU; slide decks exist but formation travels via the practitioner in the room
- Pastoral arc at Pulpit Rock — discipleship rhythms, missional culture initiatives, year-over-year pastoral care and formation
- Business-as-mission wisdom — Third Space Coffee (launched with his wife) is cited as an example but has never been written up as a case study
- Movement-lineage memory — he is a node in the Forge / Hirsch network with 30+ years of relational context that is not documented anywhere public

- Spouse & family — married (wife co-founded Third Space Coffee, name not in research); four adult children; grandfather — no names captured.

Where Relationships Are Actually Stored

- Mental rolodex — almost certainly the primary store. Multi-seminary teaching + national network + regional network + local pastorate + curated multi-author book = a relational graph held mostly in one head.
- Email — rsmith@pulpitrock.com and info@thepandocollective.com are known addresses; any CRM export is UNKNOWN — needs research.
- Phone — 303-883-9002 (Pando Collective)
- Forge America cohort rosters — live on Forge's Wix back-end, not publicly visible
- Pando Collective member list — live inside the organization, not publicly indexed
- Seminary course rosters — live with Fuller / Denver / GCU, bound by FERPA
- 100 Movements Publishing author relationships — live with the publisher
- Conference speaker agreements — live with Exponential / Mosaix / Awakenings
- No unified CRM or relationship graph on any platform he personally controls was surfaced.

Synthesis

Rowland Smith's knowledge is retrievable in pieces and unretrievable as a whole. Roughly two-thirds of his externalized output is book-shaped and therefore indexed well by retailers — Amazon, Goodreads, 100mpublishing.com, Christianbook, and six more — but the other third (the Missio Alliance essay, the Mosaix talk, the Awakenings workshops, the Forge Episode 73 interview, the Curious Friends appearance, the Koinesúnē conversation, the dissertation, the Pulpit Rock sermon archive) is scattered across partner domains with no canonical index on any site he controls. The single largest pool of trapped value is not the public-but-unlinked content — it is the Forge America cohort curriculum, the Pando Collective field knowledge, and the multi-seminary DMin teaching weeks: years of codified missional-training material that lives only in cohort rooms, private LMS surfaces, and the facilitator's head. His personal site rowlandsmith.net could be the hub that ties it all together and currently ties none of it together, which is why a Google search for his own name is still disambiguated by a retired baseball player.

Low for personal YouTube, newsletter presence, LinkedIn/Instagram URLs, Creo Ventures role, and audiobook status.

L. Rowland Smith: Reflected Understanding

A concise reflection spoken back so the language could be endorsed — familiar, but with edges that deepen. (Leader-safe: audience-sizing and commerce analysis are kept in staff notes, not here.)

Calling

You're called to form everyday missionaries by sending them out and reflecting with them — to put mission back at the center of how the church learns, rather than treating it as a program bolted onto a settled congregation. Where much of the field trains people by front-loading information, you work in the register of practice first: disciples are formed by doing mission and then reflecting on it, not by acquiring propositional knowledge and hoping action follows. That conviction has a name in your work — action-reflection discipleship — and it runs from your Fuller dissertation Missional Emergence straight through the Forge America cohort curriculum and your Denver Seminary teaching weeks. It's a scholar's theory and a practitioner's habit at once. You didn't arrive at it from a desk; you planted, pastored worship, co-founded a missional coffee shop with your wife, and have been a national director of a training network, and then you went and codified what you'd been living.

Your most-repeated invitation carries the whole calling: "joining Jesus outside the walls of the church." That's the subtitle of Life Out Loud and it's also your job description — your Pulpit Rock title is literally Pastor of Missional Culture. The thesis is a recentering, not an attack on the gathered church: ordinary believers are commissioned as everyday missionaries in the places they live, work, and play, and the local congregation becomes a sending body rather than a spectator stand. You hold this with a curatorial generosity that is distinctive — when you wanted to map the church's future, you didn't write a single-author prescription; you convened fourteen voices into Red Skies and hosted the conversation. And you carry it into a region through the Pando Collective, a micro-church network nested inside a local church that connects, activates, and launches Kingdom expressions across the Front Range. Forge lineage, Hirsch and Frost upstream, Tampa Underground as a cited inspiration — you sit firmly inside the missional movement as a practitioner-scholar translating its ecclesiology into training systems and living experiments.

Existing Content (before the platform we're building)

Where it lives. Your content lives in books — Life Out Loud (100 Movements Publishing, 2019, with a contribution from Michael Frost) and the curated Red Skies (100 Movements Publishing, 2022), plus the Fuller dissertation Missional Emergence in the Google Books record. It lives in an action-reflection essay on Missio Alliance and additional bylines across V3 Church Planting and the Forge America blog. It lives in podcast appearances — Forge America's own Episode 73 on Red Skies, the Curious Friends interview, the Koinesúnē Pando conversation. It lives in frameworks you teach but have never trademarked — action-reflection discipleship, joining Jesus outside the walls, the Red Skies conversations, the Pando network model, business-as-mission. And it lives across institutional roles — National Director of Forge America, Founder/Director of Pando, Pastor of Missional Culture at Pulpit Rock, and adjunct faculty at Fuller, Denver Seminary, and Grand Canyon University.

Credibility. It's high and earned in the field. You hold an MA in Global Leadership and a DMiss from Fuller; Life Out Loud carries Michael Frost; Red Skies convenes Alan Hirsch, Debra Hirsch, Brian Sanders, Mark DeYmaz, Leonard Sweet and more under your editorial hand; and you teach on the national conference circuit — Exponential, Mosaix, Awakenings. You write and lead as a scholar-practitioner: from the dissertation, from the cohort, from the coffee shop and the Front-Range network. The issue isn't authority. It's dispersion and discovery.

How it lives online now. As scattered, mostly borrowed surfaces. Your personal site, rowlandsmith.net, is thin — a bio and a speaking page, no essay archive and no aggregated bibliography. Everything else lives on platforms you don't own: Forge America and Pando (both Wix), Pulpit Rock's sermon archive, Missio Alliance, 100 Movements, the redskiesfuture.com companion site. There's no personal podcast, no YouTube or Vimeo channel, no newsletter or email list, and no single "where to start" page that connects the two books, the essay, the talks, and the frameworks. So a genuinely movement-shaping body of work doesn't circulate as one corpus — it stays wherever each piece was first published.

The NOTs Movemental addresses directly. Your corpus is largely not consolidated into one canonical home where the books, the essay, the talks, and the frameworks are structured, linked, and findable; not re-indexed so the action-reflection material and the Red Skies conversations are searchable by theme; not connected to an AI that reads your corpus and reflects your voice; not optimized for discovery so searchers for "joining Jesus outside the walls," "action-reflection discipleship," or "micro-church network" land on your material first; not interconnected so books, essays, podcast appearances, and Pando experiments visibly reference each other; and not captured into an owned relationship layer above the institutional reach you carry. Movemental is built to speak to each of these — consolidation, re-indexing, a voice-true AI, discoverability, interconnection, and an owned layer — so your work can move.

Constraints

The defining constraint here is bandwidth and dispersion, not capability. You're carrying a national director role, founding and running a regional micro-church network, pastoring missional culture at a local church, and teaching as adjunct across three institutions — all at once. The hours to consolidate a two-publisher catalogue, build a canonical bibliography and "where to start" page, inventory and index your scattered bylines and podcast appearances, stand up an owned-audience layer, and interconnect Forge, Pando, Pulpit Rock, and your own thin site simply aren't there when the work itself is in the cohort, the network, and the classroom. That's emblematic of a practitioner-scholar calling, not a personal failure.

Two more constraints shape every content decision. First, register: your voice is invitational and practitioner-academic — field-tested observation framed in missional-theological language, generous enough to host other voices rather than dominate them. The work loses its character if it's flattened into thin promotional content or hardened into jargon. Second, complement, never compete: Forge America, Pando, Pulpit Rock, 100 Movements, and your seminary homes are yours to keep; what's missing is the connective public-facing front door and the owned relationship layer above them, not a replacement for any of them. A platform that reduces the lift — that consolidates, surfaces, interconnects, and captures what you already produce, while preserving your register and respecting your institutions — addresses these constraints without asking you to become a different kind of leader.

Welcome Letter

`docs/movement_leader_research/_onboarded_leaders/rowland-smith/welcome-letter.md`

Rowland

You have built one of the most institutionally connective bodies of work in North American missional training. One book — Life Out Loud with 100 Movements Publishing in 2019, with a contribution from Michael Frost — and one curated collection, Red Skies, with Alan Hirsch, Debra Hirsch, Brian Sanders, Leonard Sweet, and eleven other contributors through 100 Movements in 2022. A Fuller dissertation, Missional Emergence, sitting in Google Books under the byline Leo Rowland Smith. Adjunct teaching at Fuller's DGL, Denver Seminary's DMin in New Missional Movements, and Grand Canyon University. Founder of The Pando Collective on the Front Range and Pastor of Missional Culture at Pulpit Rock in Colorado Springs. And the role that holds it together for the next decade of practitioner formation: National Director of Forge America Mission Training Network.

All of it is somewhere. None of it is in one place. Life Out Loud sits on Amazon, Goodreads, Christianbook, AbeBooks, MX Platform, and 100mpublishing.com under separate product pages. Red Skies sits across the same surfaces plus its companion site redskiesfuture.com, which links back to nothing you control. Your Missio Alliance essay An Action-Reflection Approach to Discipleship unto Jesus — which codifies the methodology behind the entire Forge America cohort curriculum — lives at the Missio Alliance author archive and is unlinked from either book. The two organizations you lead, forgeamerica.com and thepandocollective.com, are both built on Wix and render client-side, so search engines miss the content. The podcast footprint is real and uncollected: Forge America Missional Podcast Episode 73 with Anna Robinson; Curious Friends Podcast with Greg Lindsey and Jason Privett in September 2022; the Red Skies Podcast promotional series on Missio Alliance; Koinésúnē's Pando interview on identifying and developing missional leaders. You have never hosted your own show. There is no personal YouTube, no newsletter. Your personal site rowlandsmith.net has a /bio and a /speaking page and effectively nothing else. The relational layer is held the same way. Forge America cohort rosters live on the Wix back-end; the Pando Collective member list lives inside the organization; Fuller, Denver, and GCU rosters live behind FERPA; the 100 Movements Publishing author files live with the publisher; the Exponential, Mosaix, and Awakenings speaker agreements live with the conferences. The Front Range relational graph of churches, planters, and Kingdom-Dream-Grant applicants lives in your phone. Michael Frost's foreword and Alan Hirsch's Red Skies contribution put you one co-author hop from the rest of the Forge lineage. What is missing is the layer above all of this that lets a reader walk from any one piece to every other, and that lets a Forge cohort alumnus follow you into Pando rather than back into the institutions they came from.

The largest pool of value, and the one most at risk of going unwritten, sits in your head. The Forge America cohort curriculum is delivered in the room, year after year, and the formation happens in the room. The Pando Collective's network intuition — which leaders to match with which micro-expressions, which Kingdom Dream Grants to back — exists nowhere on paper. The multi-seminary teaching arc across Fuller's DGL, Denver Seminary's DMin in New Missional Movements, and GCU repeats year over year with slide decks that travel with you. The Pulpit Rock pastoral arc exists in sermon outlines, not in a public archive. Third Space Coffee, the business-as-mission project launched with your wife, has never been written up as a case study. The Forge / Hirsch movement-lineage memory lives in classrooms, coaching calls, and the same conversation having happened a thousand times.

This is where Movemental's AI does work that was not previously possible. The inventory just walked through — the books, the dissertation, the seminary roles, the podcast appearances, the institutional homes of your work and your relationships — was compiled by AI sitting with your public corpus for the time it would have taken a human researcher weeks. The same approach now turns toward what is not yet public: AI-assisted interview capture of the Forge cohort facilitation rationale, course-note extraction from the Denver Seminary DMin teaching weeks, Pando Kingdom-Dream-Grant case-study capture, dictation that becomes draft and draft that becomes essay. The embodied layer can be surfaced at your pace rather than at a publisher's. The AI does not replace the voice. Every draft is yours to edit, refuse, or rewrite. The tools do the inventorying and the connective tissue. Authorship stays yours.

This is what the dashboard is built to do, and what we will do with you. First, aggregate. Life Out Loud, Red Skies, the Missio Alliance essay, the V3 articles, the four podcast appearances, the Awakenings 2025 workshop, the Mosaix talk A Needed Posture of the Church for Our Culture Today, and the embodied layer as it gets surfaced, pulled into one hub. Second, interconnect. Life Out Loud points at the dissertation it grew out of, which points at the Missio Alliance action-reflection essay, which points at the Forge America cohort curriculum, which points at Red Skies and back. Third, repurpose. The Forge cohort curriculum becomes a public sequence; Red Skies gets a pathway built around its ten conversations; the Mosaix posture talk becomes an indexed essay; Third Space Coffee becomes a written case study. Fourth, amplify. Search reach, network effects, the references that arrive once rowlandsmith.net actually returns content. The work this season is not authorship. It is translation of what you have already authored into a form practitioners can actually reach.

A year from now, rowlandsmith.net looks different. A missional-culture hub gathers Life Out Loud, Red Skies, the Missio Alliance essay, the four podcast appearances, the Mosaix and Awakenings sessions, and a cohort sign-up. A Forge America public archive holds a decade of cohort teaching under your name rather than inside Forge's Wix back-end. The dissertation comes out from under the Leo Rowland Smith Google Books byline and onto your own domain. A newsletter exists that did not before. A missional pastor in Pueblo, Colorado, who has never heard of The Pando Collective, finds the action-reflection essay on a Tuesday morning and starts the Red Skies ten-conversation sequence with her team that afternoon.

This is your next season. The work ahead is making the body of work you have already built reach the practitioners it was written for. Your National Director role at Forge America does not contradict this; it is the reason it has to happen now. The missional practitioners Forge is training across the United States — and the Front Range leaders Pando is forming alongside them — need to find your teaching without a cohort introducing them. Right now they cannot.

Editorial bio

Rowland Smith carries the National Director role at Forge America Mission Training Network while founding and directing The Pando Collective, a Front-Range micro-church network seeded inside Pulpit Rock Church, and pastoring missional culture at the same Colorado Springs congregation.

He authored Life Out Loud: Joining Jesus Outside the Walls of the Church (100 Movements Publishing, 2019) with a foreword from Michael Frost, then curated and edited Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations Exploring Our Future as the Church (100 Movements Publishing, 2022) — a multi-author chorus including Alan Hirsch, Debra Hirsch, Brian Sanders, Leonard Sweet, Mark DeYmaz, and eleven other contributors writing across leadership, race, sexuality, contextual intelligence, and church economics.

He teaches as adjunct faculty at Fuller Theological Seminary's DGL program, Denver Seminary's Doctor of Ministry in New Missional Movements, and Grand Canyon University, holding an MA in Global Leadership and a Fuller DMiss whose dissertation, Missional Emergence, codifies the action-reflection pedagogy that powers his Forge cohort design. He also co-founded Third Space Coffee with his wife — business-as-mission lived in the same neighborhood as the rest of his work.

- Newsletter / email subscription presence

Research Limitations

1. Common surname / common initial — "L. Rowland Smith" must be qualified with context anchors ("Forge America", "Pando", "Pulpit Rock", "Colorado Springs", "missional") to avoid namesake collision
2. Wix-built org sites — forgeamerica.com and thepandocollective.com render heavily client-side; programmatic fetches return only chrome. Manual browsing required for full inventory.
3. Personal site reachability — rowlandsmith.net was indexed but our programmatic fetch returned ECONNREFUSED in this pass. Manual capture of full bio is recommended.
4. Per-scope choice — sermon audio, podcast episode files, and video assets were not downloaded; canonical links are noted in digital-presence-discovery.md and content-analysis.md for future capture.

Confidence Assessment

Overall Confidence: High

High-confidence (verified):

- Identity, full name (Leo Rowland Smith), and Colorado Springs base
- Roles at Forge America (National Director), Pando Collective (Founder/Director), Pulpit Rock (Pastor of Missional Culture), and adjunct faculty at Fuller / Denver Seminary
- Education: MA Global Leadership + DMiss from Fuller
- Two trade books + one published dissertation
- X handle, Pulpit Rock email
- Conference circuit (Exponential, Mosaix, Awakenings)
- Editorial relationships (Missio Alliance confirmed; V3 + Forge bylines referenced)
- Podcast appearance set (4+ verified)

Medium-confidence:

- LinkedIn / personal Instagram presence (likely but not URL-verified)
- Forge America podcast hosting cadence vs. guest-only role
- Volume of Forge America / V3 bylines (catalog inventory pending)

Low-confidence:

- Personal YouTube/Vimeo channel (none surfaced)
- Newsletter / paid-subscription content (no evidence found)

Research Methodology

- Multi-engine queries with strong context anchors to disambiguate the namesake problem
- Cross-referenced findings across personal site, X profile, three seminary directories, two organizational sites, one church staff page, two book publishers/retailers, three conference partners, one editorial archive, and 4+ podcast platforms

- Documented all queries and source URLs
  - Flagged unrelated namesakes explicitly to prevent future contamination
  - Maintained respect for existing work; focused on publicly available information only

Platform Distribution

Content is split across:

1. Personal: rowlandsmith.net + X (@Rowland_L_Smith)
2. Networks he leads: forgeamerica.com + thepandocollective.com (+ Forge Colorado Springs FB)
3. Local church: pulpitrock.com

4. Academic: fuller.edu, denverseminary.edu, gcu.edu
5. Publisher / book retail: 100mpublishing.com, redskiesfuture.com, Amazon, Goodreads, Christianbook, MX Platform
6. Editorial / podcast guest: missioalliance.org, koinesune.com, V3, Gazette
7. Conference partners: exponential.org, mosaixconference.com, awakeningsgathering.com

Content Volume Assessment

- Books: 2 trade books + 1 dissertation
- Articles: At least one signed Missio Alliance piece confirmed; bio claims regular V3 + Forge America bylines (full inventory pending manual crawl of Wix sites)
- Podcast appearances: 4+ confirmed episodes (Forge, Curious Friends, Red Skies/Missio Alliance, Koinesúnē)
- Speaking: Active national circuit (Exponential, Mosaix, Awakenings, Forge cohorts, seminary DMin teaching weeks)
- Academic teaching: Three institutions, ongoing

Content Recency

- Most recent verified activity: Listed Exponential Global 2025 + West/Global 2026 speaker; Awakenings 2025 workshop bundle; Denver Seminary photo asset dated 2025-02
- Frequency: Conference speaking + cohort teaching is consistent; written content (articles, blog) cadence appears intermittent rather than weekly

Discoverability Indicators

SEO & Indexing

- Search Engine Visibility: Strong for the queries "Rowland Smith" Forge, "Rowland Smith" Pando, "L. Rowland Smith", "Red Skies". Surname collision with multiple unrelated public figures means context anchors are required.
- Academic Profiles: Fuller and Denver Seminary directory pages rank consistently; GCU page not surfaced.
- Book Discoverability: Strong — both books indexed across Amazon, Goodreads, Christianbook, AbeBooks, BooksRun, eBay, MX Platform, 100M Publishing, RJ Julia.

Social Sharing

- X account active; LinkedIn presence not verified; no personal Instagram or YouTube identified
- Pando Collective IG (@the_pando_collective) provides organizational social channel

Backlinks & References

- Cited across academic, organizational, publisher, podcast, conference, and editorial domains — diverse third-party validation, but few backlinks point at his personal site as the canonical hub.

Notes

- Personal website does exist (corrects earlier "to be verified" note) but appears underutilized as a content hub — primary discoverability still flows through Forge America, Pando, Pulpit Rock, the seminaries, and book retailers.
- Two Wix-built sites (forgeamerica.com, thepandocollective.com) and one Squarespace-style author site (rowlandsmith.net) all render heavily client-side — programmatic crawls miss most content. A manual browser walk-through is required to fully inventory blog posts, podcast back-catalog, and team pages.
- Per scope, sermon audio, podcast episode files, and video assets were not downloaded; canonical links are noted above for future capture.

Content Thematic Analysis

Primary Themes

1. Missional Discipleship — "Joining Jesus Outside the Walls"

- Anchored in Life Out Loud: Joining Jesus Outside the Walls of the Church (100M Publishing, 2019)
- Core thesis: every Christ-follower is invited into adventurous, everyday-missionary living in the places they live, work, and play
- Reinforced by his Pulpit Rock role as "Pastor of Missional Culture"

2. The Future of the Church — Red Skies Conversations

- Curated/edited Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations Exploring Our Future as the Church (100M Publishing, 2022)
- Conversations span: leadership, race, sexuality, contextual intelligence, technology, creation care, church economics, migration
- Multi-author chorus including Alan Hirsch, Michael Frost, Debra Hirsch, Brian Sanders, Gregory Coles, Mark DeYmaz, Rich Robinson, Oneya Okuwobi, Tyler Kleeberger, Lisa Rodriguez-Watson, Jay Y. Kim, Leonard Sweet, Michael Adam Beck, Anna Robinson
- Companion site <https://redskiesfuture.com> + tied podcast series via Missio Alliance

3. Mission-Training Methodology — Action-Reflection Discipleship

- Codified in his Missio Alliance essay An Action-Reflection Approach to Discipleship unto Jesus
- Powers the Forge America curriculum: "learning by doing" before propositional knowledge
- Operationalized through Forge cohort design and training intensives

4. Micro-Church Multiplication — The Pando Collective Model

- Front-Range Kingdom network connecting, activating, and launching micro-expressions of the church
- Sits inside Pulpit Rock; functions as a hub for house churches, non-profits, ministries, and Kingdom-focused businesses
- Inspired by Tampa Underground; supports leaders doing Kingdom work outside (or alongside) traditional local-church structures

5. Business-as-Mission

- Lived through Third Space Coffee (founded with his wife) — coffee shop as missional community intersection
- Theme surfaces in Life Out Loud and his Pando talks on Kingdom-focused businesses

6. Pastoral / Cultural Posture

- Mosaix talk: A Needed Posture of the Church for Our Culture Today
- Emphasis on incarnational presence over programmatic ministry

Theological Focus

- Missional theology (missio Dei) — primary register
- Incarnational ecclesiology — how the church embodies presence in a place
- Practical theology — pedagogy informed by Fuller's transformative-learning tradition (his dissertation pulls these together)
- Multi-ethnic ecclesiology — engaged via Mosaix and Red Skies' race conversation
- Movement theology — direct lineage from the Forge / Hirsch tradition

Movement Focus

- Missional movements (Forge America national leadership)
- Micro-church networks (Pando regional leadership)
- Mission training cohorts (Forge America + Denver Seminary DMin in New Missional Movements)
- Multi-author conversations on the future of the church (Red Skies)
- Front-Range collaborative ministry (Pando Collective spans Colorado Springs → Denver)

Content Organization Analysis

Organizational Structure

Personal:

- rowlandsmith.net — bio + speaking + (light) book promotion. Functions today more as a business card than a content hub.

Network (orgs Rowland leads):

- forgeamerica.com — national curriculum, cohort programs, podcast, blog (Wix; client-rendered)
- thepandocollective.com — regional micro-church network; coaching/training, Kingdom Dream Grants
- forgecoloradosprings (Facebook) — local hub social

Local Church:

- pulpitrock.com/people/rowland-smith — staff bio + sermon archive at /messages/

Academic:

- Fuller (DGL Program), Denver Seminary (Leadership + DMin in New Missional Movements), GCU (cross-cultural)
- Course-by-course content; not publicly accessible beyond profiles

Published:

- Life Out Loud — single-author monograph
- Red Skies — 10-essay framework with companion site, podcast series, bulk facilitator kits
- Missional Emergence — dissertation (Google Books authority record)

Editorial:

- Missio Alliance author archive, V3 Church Planting bylines, Forge America blog

Content Strategy

- Books as anchors: Each book opens a downstream cycle of speaking, podcast appearances, and editorial commentary
- Cohort as primary teaching modality: Forge cohorts + Denver DMin teaching weeks function as his repeat teaching surface
- Micro-network as embodied lab: Pando Collective is a living case study he can point to in talks and writing
- Distributed presence: He shows up across many trusted partner platforms (Missio Alliance, Mosaix, Exponential, Awakenings) rather than centralizing on his own channel

Content Interconnection

- Books ↔ podcast: Red Skies ↔ Forge America Episode 73 + Missio Alliance Red Skies podcast series
- Books ↔ companion site: Red Skies ↔ redskiesfuture.com
- Cohort ↔ writing: Action-reflection methodology lives in Forge curriculum and the Missio Alliance essay
- Local ↔ national: Pando Collective practice ↔ Forge America national framework
- Cross-platform gap: Personal site does not aggregate any of the above into a unified bibliography or reading-order

Content Gaps

- Personal site is thin (no aggregated library, bibliography, podcast-appearance index, or reading guide)

- No personal newsletter
- No personal podcast (he guests; he doesn't host)
- No personal YouTube channel (sermon and training video lives under Pulpit Rock and Forge channels)
- Editorial cadence (Missio Alliance / V3 / Forge blog) is intermittent rather than weekly
- No publicly indexed cohort excerpts or facilitator samples

Voice & Style Analysis

Writing Style

- Practitioner-academic: Field-tested observations framed in missional theological language; not jargon-heavy but not casual
- Story-led: Bio language emphasizes "diverse voice in seeing God's kingdom at work in the church, in missional business models, and in incarnational neighborhood presence"
- Conversational invitation: Title and framing of Life Out Loud signal accessible, invitational, narrative voice
- Curatorial generosity: Red Skies shows him as orchestrator and host of conversation rather than sole authority

Tone and Approach

- Missional: Constant — every channel ties back to "joining Jesus on his mission"
- Embodied: Frequent reference to specific places (Colorado Springs, Front Range), specific businesses (Third Space Coffee), specific cohorts
- Movement-oriented: Network thinking dominates; emphasis on multiplication, not maintenance
- Pastoral: Posture more than polemic; A Needed Posture of the Church for Our Culture Today

Audience Levels

- Practitioners — church planters, missional pastors, marketplace ministers
- Cohort participants — Forge alumni, Pando network leaders
- Academics / DMin students — at Fuller, Denver, and GCU
- Conference audiences — Exponential, Mosaix, Awakenings
- Multi-author book readers — pastors and lay leaders engaging Red Skies

Discoverability Assessment

SEO Indicators

- Strong rankings for queries with context anchors ( Forge America , Pando , Red Skies , Pulpit Rock )
- Vulnerable to surname collision — multiple unrelated public figures share variants of his name
- Personal site is indexed but does not function as canonical authority hub
- Books exceptionally well-indexed across major retail and review sites

Content Indexing

- Academic profiles indexed (Fuller, Denver Seminary)
- Org sites indexed but client-rendered (forgeamerica.com, thepandocollective.com on Wix) — full content depth not always crawlable
- Editorial pieces indexed (Missio Alliance)
- Conference speaker pages indexed (Mosaix, Exponential, Awakenings)
- No personal podcast feed; no personal YouTube channel

Social Sharing Indicators

- X account active ( @Rowland_L_Smith ); volume not measured in this pass
- Pando IG ( @the_pando_collective ) provides organizational sharing channel
- LinkedIn presence likely but not URL-verified

Domain Authority

- High via Fuller, Denver Seminary, Missio Alliance, Amazon, Goodreads
- Mid via forgeamerica.com, thepandocollective.com, redskiesfuture.com, pulpitrock.com
- Low via personal rowlandsmith.net

Ecosystem Analysis

Content Ecosystem

Personal hub: rowlandsmith.net + X — thin

Networks he leads: Forge America (national) + Pando Collective (regional) + Forge Colorado Springs + Ecclesia Colorado Springs

Local church: Pulpit Rock (staff role + Pando hosting)

Academic: Fuller + Denver + GCU

Publisher: 100 Movements Publishing (both books)

Editorial partners: Missio Alliance, V3 Church Planting

Conference partners: Exponential, Mosaix, Awakenings Gathering

Podcast partners: Forge America, Curious Friends, Missio Alliance Red Skies, Koinesúnē

Cross-References

- Forge / Hirsch lineage: Forge America is the US arm of the Forge movement Hirsch co-founded; Red Skies anchors that lineage by featuring Alan + Debra Hirsch, Frost, and Sanders alongside Rowland
- Cohort ↔ writing: Action-reflection essay codifies what Forge cohorts practice
- Pando ↔ Pulpit Rock: Pando Collective sits inside the church; the church grants the network institutional cover
- Books ↔ podcast circuit: Both books opened explicit podcast cycles (Curious Friends + Forge Ep. 73 for Red Skies)

Institutional Partnerships

- Forge America — National Director
- The Pando Collective — Founder/Director
- The Church at Pulpit Rock — Pastor of Missional Culture
- Forge Colorado Springs — Director (regional hub)
- Ecclesia Colorado Springs — Lead Curator

- Denver Seminary — Adjunct (Leadership + DMin in New Missional Movements)
- Grand Canyon University — Adjunct (cross-cultural)

- Blog posts: No personal blog cadence discovered

Academic Content

- Courses: Active across 3 institutions
- Lectures / cohort weeks: Ongoing (Denver Seminary DMin in New Missional Movements; Fuller DGL)
- Academic publications: Dissertation; no journal articles surfaced in this pass

Organizational Content

- Forge America training materials (cohort-restricted; not publicly indexed)
- Pando Collective: Coaching/training, Kingdom Dream Grants, network resources

Other Content Forms

- Podcast appearances: 4+ confirmed episodes; no personal show
- Conference talks: Active national circuit (Exponential 2025/2026, Mosaix, Awakenings)
- Sermons / teaching video: Hosted on Pulpit Rock and Forge America channels (links noted, not pulled per scope)
- Newsletter / email: None discovered

Notes

- The two-book + one-dissertation backbone, combined with national + regional + local + academic platforms, makes Rowland an unusually rich case for a "many embodied platforms, one missing personal hub" Movemental story.
- The biggest single multiplier opportunity: turn the Red Skies "10 conversations" into an evergreen, navigable on-site framework keyed off rowlandsmith.net, with each conversation producing essays, short-form video, podcast cuts, and downloadable cohort facilitation kits.
- Per scope, video and audio assets were not downloaded; canonical links are catalogued in digital-presence-discovery.md and sources.md.

Editorial bio

Rowland Smith carries the National Director role at Forge America Mission Training Network while founding and directing The Pando Collective, a Front-Range micro-church network seeded inside Pulpit Rock Church in Colorado Springs, where he also serves as Pastor of Missional Culture.

He authored Life Out Loud: Joining Jesus Outside the Walls of the Church (100 Movements Publishing, 2019) with a foreword contribution from Michael Frost, then curated and edited Red Skies: 10 Essential Conversations Exploring Our Future as the Church (100 Movements Publishing, 2022) — a multi-author chorus including Alan Hirsch, Debra Hirsch, Brian Sanders, Leonard Sweet, Mark DeYmaz, Oneya Okuwobi, Lisa Rodriguez-Watson, and Anna Robinson writing across leadership, race, sexuality, contextual intelligence, and church economics.

He teaches as adjunct faculty at Fuller Theological Seminary's DGL program, Denver Seminary's Doctor of Ministry in New Missional Movements, and Grand Canyon University, holding an MA in Global Leadership and a Fuller DMiss whose dissertation, Missional Emergence, codifies the action-reflection pedagogy now powering his Forge cohort design. He also co-founded Third Space Coffee with his wife — business-as-mission lived in the same neighborhood as the rest of his work.
